MERRY-GO-
ROUNDBy DREW PEARSON
and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON Tuesday, May 7.—Without exception no problem facing the administration right now is so worrying as that which grips the stronghold of the democratic party.

The problem is King Cotton. And the question is whether to continue to pay tribute to his despotic reign or to throw off the mingled benefits and heartaches which he has given the Southland since the days of Eli Whitney and the cotton gin.

Secretary Wallace and his AAA cohorts keep up an optimistic front regarding this and maintain that all is well. But they realize they have a bull by the tail and can't let go. Privately, they are worried sick.

The problem, briefly summarized, is that although the cotton curtailment program of the AAA has almost doubled the value of cotton, it has simultaneously raised the price so high that foreign cotton countries—Brazil, Egypt, Russia—gradually are taking away the U. S. market.

EXPORT SLUMP

AMERICAN exports for the year ending in April of 1935 were exactly 40 per cent less than the year before.

British textile manufacturers, finding American cotton too high, have encouraged increased production in Egypt and India. Brazil's production doubled last year.

Meanwhile American machinery companies are helping to cut the cotton industry's throat. Their sale of cotton ginning and harvesting machinery to Brazil and other foreign competitors has jumped five times over the pre-depression figure.

To remedy this, Secretary Wallace has been talking of an international conference to limit cotton crops. But although no one will admit it officially, secret overtures by the state department to other cotton countries have met with diplomatic rebuff.

As long as Mr. Wallace's AAA keeps the price high, foreign competitors don't want crop limitation.

Meanwhile, cotton farmers complain that Henry Wallace may be an excellent secretary of agriculture as far as the Iowa corn and hog farmer is concerned, but that he doesn't know cotton.

QUICK OR SLOW DEATH

MERELY to appoint an agricultural secretary who knows cotton, however, would cure nothing, and the leaders in the cotton industry realize this.

What the South is up against is slow starvation or sudden death. The government can continue to peg cotton at its present price and gradually see the cotton markets of the United States dwindle to nothing. In other words, slow starvation.

Or it can pull the peg from the price of cotton and bankrupt the South. In other words, sudden death.

The latter, of course, also would mean the bankruptcy of the democratic party and almost certain defeat for Roosevelt in 1936.

Senate Passes Patman Cash Bonus Bill
Supervisors Vote $3000 to Launch Joint ProjectM'ADOO PLEA SHIFT SEEN
FOLLOWED BY ACTION IN SCHOOL LEADERS

California Senator In May Air J. C. And Speech From Floor H. S. Separation As Bill Passes Tonight

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, May 7. (AP)—In the face of a promised veto, the senate today joined the house in voting for cash payment of the soldiers' bonus by a $2,000,000,000 issue of new currency.

Senator McAdoo (D., Cal.) former secretary of the treasury, advocated paying off the bonus under the Patman bill by nightfall.

He took the floor for one of his rare speeches as senate leaders were trying to get a final vote on the bonus bill by nightfall.

Speaking clearly and slowly, he said the Vinson bill would call for a bond issue that would require $66,000,000 of interest annually. Under that proposal, he said the government could pay $1,320,000,000 in 20 years and still owe the original $2,200,000,000.

Under the Patman bill a sinking fund could be set up by which the new currency issues proposed in the measure could be retired in 20 years by paying $81,000,000 a year, he added.

"For my part," he said, "I am opposed to spending $1,300,000,000 more than is necessary."

Contending the government had "matchless credit," McAdoo said issuance of $2,000,000,000 of new currency would have no more effect on the nation's credit than "throwing a handful of sand on the seashore" in hopes of affecting the incoming tide.

Permits and Fines Fatten City's Purse

Permits of various types, plus fines collected from offenders against city ordinances enriched Santa Ana to the extent of $1265.80 during April, reports at last night's city council meeting showed.

City Judge John Mitchell collected $810.20 in fines. Building Inspector S. I. Preble garnered $21.05 for building and plaster permits. Plumbing Inspector H. O. Crowe received $187.50 for plumbing and sewer permits and City Electrician W. O. Packard collected $138.05 for permits issued by his department.

Operation Delays Hop For Endurance Test

LOS ANGELES, Tuesday, May 7. (AP)—An unexpected operation today kept Henrietta Sumner, well known aviatrix, out of the skies.

She will be permitted to leave the hospital Friday, however, to fly to Oklahoma City to begin a scheduled endurance flight over that city, Physicians said.

FIFTH VICTIM OF PLANE CRACK-UP SUCCUMBS

MACON, Mo., Tuesday, May 7. (AP)—The tight survivors of the crash of the TWA airliner "Sky Chief" which killed Senator Bronson M. Cutting of New Mexico and four other persons were reported improved today, although two of them remained in a serious condition.

The death list was increased to five when Mrs. William Kaplan of West Los Angeles, succumbed early this morning after an emergency operation.

American Legionnaires formed an escort of honor when the body of Senator Cutting was borne to a Burlington train for the trip to New York.

Two others were described in a critical condition as a result of injuries suffered in the accident which brought death to Senator Bronson Cutting of New Mexico.

The condition of Paul Wing, Hollywood, was reported "very low." C. B. Drew, Santa Monica, although reported in a critical condition, was said by physicians to be resting easily after a blood transfusion.

Without the information which Pilot Harvey Bolton and Co-pilot Kenneth H. Gresson could supply they alive, investigators referred repeatedly to Bolton's last words:

"I ran out of gasoline."

"Please adjust your safety belts," flashed the illuminated sign to the 11 passengers, many of whom were asleep, unaware of the troubles of the crew. This was followed by the co-pilot's verbal warning to "buckle your belts tight."

CONSEQUENCES OF DEATH PONDERED

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, May 7. (AP)—The political consequences of the death of Senator Cutting were being pondered today.

It is possible that D. K. Hammond, who has been head of the two institutions, will be assigned the position of president or director of the junior college, and that Lynn Crawford, who has been in charge of student activities at the high school for several years, will be made principal of the high school.

Problem Complicated

When the junior college was organized three years ago, it was carried on almost as a part of the high school. Eventually the junior college grew in enrollment until it became an institution as large as many important colleges, and the problem of carrying on the junior college on the same campus with the high school became complicated.

The destruction of buildings by the earthquake necessitated the removal of the junior college to its present location on North Main street, and school authorities now see the separation as having been successfully and permanently accomplished.

Al Smith Gives Aid To 'East Side' Author

NEW YORK, Tuesday, May 7. (AP)—Alfred E. Smith, for whom the sidewalks of New York were childhood environment, gave a helping hand today to the man who enshrined them in the famous song:

"Boys and girls together . . . Me and Mamie O'Rourke."

"Tripped the light fantastic on the sidewalks of New York . . ."

James W. Blake, the man who held the immortalized Mamie's hand and danced to hurdy-gurdy music down on East 18th street years ago, is dangerously ill—and "broke."

"Someone should have told me sooner," Smith said. "I am extremely sorry to hear his condition is serious. Send word that I will see he gets everything he needs."

However, R. D. Flaherty, secretary, said, "The committee is favorable towards a plan which provides a box assessment on all fruit prorated throughout the season. This fund would be used to take care of surplus fruit."

"This plan was favored in preference to a program providing for physical handling of fruit for by-products or other use."

All well known plans were discussed (see turn to Page 2, Col. 7)

EXHIBITS A AND B—TAKE YOUR CHOICE

CITRUS PLAN IS AGREED

A plan to keep inferior citrus fruit off the market by compensating growers for it from assessments on each prorated box of fruit may be presented to the industry within a week.

This was the outcome when all 12 members of a State Farm bureau committee on surplus citrus control and the bureau's citrus committee chairman, Clarence Hawley, yesterday considered all major disposal plans and agreed upon important points.

The committee appointed a subcommittee to draft the points agreed upon into a plan. If the draft is accepted by the whole committee when it next meets in Los Angeles on May 10, it will then be presented to the entire industry for criticism and revision.

It will then go to the secretary of agriculture, who, under powers granted by the AAA, can make it operative as a supplement to the California-Arizona marketing agreement.

Because premature announcement of negotiations would make formulating a plan more difficult than it is, the committee issued no official report.

Committee Favorable

However, R. D. Flaherty, secretary, said, "The committee is favorable towards a plan which provides a box assessment on all fruit prorated throughout the season. This fund would be used to take care of surplus fruit."

"This plan was favored in preference to a program providing for physical handling of fruit for by-products or other use."

ENGLISH DUKE DIES

GOODWOOD, CHICHESTER, England—Lord Charles Henry Gordon-Lennox, Duke of Richmond, died today at the age of 64. He was thrice a duke, possessing besides the title of Duke of Richmond those of the Duke of Gordon and the Duke of D'Aubigny, later a French title.

PROTEST CLEMENCY

WASHINGTON—The Disabled American Veterans of the World War made public a letter to the national commander, Volney P. Moore, Jr., asking that Attorney General Cummings record the organization's "vigorous protest against clemency for Grover Cleveland Bergdoll."

DRIVERS WARNED

LOS ANGELES—Murder charges will be lodged against motorists suspected of negligent driving in Los Angeles. Alarmed over the growing toll of fatalities, Captain Bert Wallis of the police homicide squad declared stringent methods will be employed to correct violations.

MAY IMPEACH JUDGE

WASHINGTON—Representative Dirksen (R-Ill.) said today he would present charges on the floor which he said would lead to the probable impeachment of Judge Samuel A. Lister of the United States circuit court of appeals for the city of Chicago.

MURPHY OPERATED UPON

DETROIT—Frank Murphy, Governor General of the Philippine Islands, underwent a tonsillectomy today. Murphy and his party plan to leave Detroit Sunday for San Francisco to sail for the Philippines.

PRISONERS ESCAPE

AMSTERDAM—Reports reaching Amsterdam today said seven inmates of a German concentration camp near the frontier escaped, four gaining the safety of The Netherlands and one being shot by guards who recaptured him.

LONDON MEAT SHORTAGE

LONDON—A shortage of fresh meat threatened London today as an aftermath of its Jubilee celebration. Employees of Smithfield market, principal source of the city's meat supply, went on strike because their demands for double pay on Jubilee day were denied. The delivery of thousands of tons of meat was held up.

MOTHER HANGS SELF IN CELL

Using a ripped nightgown as a noose, Miss Mildred Wells, 30 years old, 704 West Third street, Santa Ana, hanged herself yesterday afternoon from a bar in the upper bunk of her cell in the county jail.

The body was found swinging from the improvised rope by Mrs. Theo Lacey, jail matron, when she returned from court at 5 o'clock. The inhalator squad from the fire department worked for nearly an hour in an attempt to resuscitate her but were unsuccessful.

Miss Wells, who was described as having flaming red hair, good looking and ordinarily cheerful, had recently become despondent. She had been divorced three years.

Twin Girls Survivors

Miss Wells leaves two beautiful twin daughters, Barbara and Betty, who celebrated their seventh birthday last month. Barbara had two nickles that her mother had given her for a birthday present. Last night their aunt, Mrs. Donald Wells, 1720 West Ninth street, called for the children. The twins were not told that their mother was gone. When they left with their aunt they were laughing and cheerful.

At 2:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon Miss Wells was found walking on South Main street near Pine street. She was barefooted, carrying her shoes, and had been the cause of three calls to the police station. Detective Lieutenant Charles Wolford and Police Matron Edith Gallap arrested her and booked her at the county jail on a charge of drunkenness.

Mrs. Ella Ault, 702 West Third street, owner of the house in which Miss Wells and her two children were living, told officers that she had found an empty gin bottle under the bed.

The three were living alone in the little one-room affair that served as bedroom, kitchen and dining and living rooms. They had been there only a week. Miss Wells was recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident a short while ago that necessitated the use of crutches, and it was believed that her inability to work was another cause of her despondency.

Miss Wells' body was taken to the Smith and Thill mortuary. Inquest will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow, Coroner Earl Abbey has announced.

ORANGE COUNTY moved swiftly today to prepare for placing an exhibit at the World's fair opening in San Diego May 29.

The board of supervisors first voted an appropriation of $3000 from the county general fund to be used in launching the project. Supervisor Willard Smith of Orange, chairman of the publicity committee, immediately held a short conference with V. D. Johnson, the county's publicity director and secretary of the Orange chamber of commerce.

Johnson is expected to take charge of the project and, with assistance of other civic leaders, to arrange the exhibit itself.

A telegram was dispatched at once to the San Diego fair headquarters, accepting the offer of space in the state building at the fair.

The motion for appropriating funds for the display was made by Supervisor William C. Jerome of this city. It was seconded by Lyon. Jerome, Lyon and West voted in favor of the program, with Chairman John Mitchell and Supervisor Smith not voting.

FOUR KILLED, SEVEN HURT IN BLAZE

BOSTON, Tuesday, May 7.—(AP) Four persons, including the mother and 14-year-old daughter of John Lavalie internationally known portrait painter, were burned to death or killed in leaps as fire swept the artist's home today. Seven other persons were injured.

The dead: Mrs. John La Valle, sr., 70, crippled mother of the artist, burned to death in her bed.

Alice La Valle, 14, daughter of John La Valle, burned to death. Body found in debris after collapse of fourth floor.

Miss Mary Dolan, 24, maid in La Valle home, killed in leap. The injured: Ellen Elaine 6, daughter of La Valle, slight internal injury, severe burns.

Mary Dean, 14, daughter of La Valle, internal injuries and severe burns.

Mary McLeod, nurse of Mrs. La Valle, sr., burns on back, shock, back injuries.

Fireman William Hayhurst, severe cuts and bruises; Lieut. Charles O'Brien, fractured leg; Ladderman John Murphy, smoke inhalation and burns.

Also injured was Molly O'Reilly, 25, cook, who escaped the flames but suffered from smoke inhalation.

Artist Absent

The fire occurred in the absence of the socially prominent artist and his second wife, the former Virginia Wilson of Cincinnati, daughter of Robert Wilson, tobacco-trade multi-millionaire.

Firemen who fought their way into the house found La Valle's aged mother dead in her flaming bed. The daughter, Alice, apparently died before she had a chance to seek safety. Her body was found beneath debris after the collapse of the fourth floor.

The artist's mother was a sister of the socially prominent Mrs. Curtis Guild, widow of a former governor of Massachusetts.

La Valle is a graduate of Harvard and is widely known in America and Europe as a portrait painter. He married Virginia Wilson in 1932, after the death of his first wife, mother of his four children.

Little Alarm Felt in Rail Pension Action

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, May 7. (AP)—Donald Richberg, chairman of the NRA board, informed congressional leaders today that he felt the supreme court's decision against the railroad retirement act had cast no serious doubts on the constitutionality of the administration's social security program.

President Roosevelt, meanwhile, began a study of the decision to ascertain if another railway pension bill could be prepared which would be upheld.

There were reports that an effort would be made to get around the supreme court decision by basing new legislation on the federal taxing power rather than the right to regulate interstate commerce.

Richberg talked with democratic leaders of the house ways and means committee, which originated the security bill and put it through the house without change.

Tells Views

Asked whether he, personally, thought the court decision created any doubt about the security bill, Chairman Doughton told newspapermen after the meeting: "I wouldn't think so, but I can't tell. Of course, I'm not a lawyer."

HIGH COURT REVERSES CONVICTION OF FORMER DAKOTA GOVERNOR

NEW TRIAL IS ORDERED FOR LANGER

Decision Affects Four Others in U. S. Fund Case

ST. PAUL, Tuesday, May 7. (AP) The United States circuit court of appeals, in a decision handed down here today, reversed the conviction of William Langer, former governor of North Dakota, and four others charged with conspiracy to misuse federal relief funds. The five were convicted in federal district court in North Dakota June 17, 1934.

The case was remanded to the U. S. district court of North Dakota for a new trial. The five appellants were convicted under an indictment which charged them and four others with conspiracy to administer corruptly federal statutes relating to the distribution of emergency relief funds.

Charges Cited
The charge grew out of alleged solicitation of workers paid with federal relief funds for political contributions. Testimony at the original trial showed various workers had been assessed contributions of five per cent of their salaries to "The Leader," Langer political weekly newspaper.

Convicted with Langer, who was sentenced to serve 18 months in a federal penitentiary and pay a $10,000 fine, were Oscar J. Chaput, Frank A. Vogel, former state highway commissioner; R. A. Kinzer, secretary of the state emergency relief committee, and Harold McDonald, solicitor for the leaders. Their cases also were covered by the appeal.

Langer, who was state relief administrator under federal appointment at the time of the alleged violations, subsequently was removed as governor by state supreme court order.

MORE ABOUT CUTTING

of the death of Senator Bronson M. Cutting of New Mexico, killed in a plane crash on his way to Washington to vote for payment of the soldiers' bonus, were pondered in the capitol today.

It appeared that the liberal republican's death might add to the overwhelming democratic majority in the senate. Governor Clyde Hingley of New Mexico, who will appoint his successor, is a democrat.

Appointment of a democratic senator from the western state, together with the qualification next month of Senator-elect Rush D. Holt of West Virginia, would bring the party's strength in the senate to 70 compared to a republican total of 24.

Cutting was opposed by Roosevelt leaders in his race for reelection last fall, but was declared the winner by a narrow margin over Dennis Chavez, a former congressman.

RELATIVES, FRIENDS AT WRECK SCENE

KANSAS CITY, Tuesday, May 7. (AP)—Eight friends and relatives of the motion picture victims of the TWA airplane crash near Atlanta, Mo., flew in here early today from Los Angeles, and continued by automobile to Macon, where the injured lie in Samaritan hospital.

Louis D. Lighton, Paramount producer, and a speed flier, Paul Mantz, were the first to come in. They were followed in a sister ship of the one that fell by Mrs. Richard Wallace, Mrs. Martha Wing, Mrs. C. B. Drew, Mrs. D. W. Rudd, Mrs. Lillian Kaaden and David A. Epstein.

Students Will Confer On Next Year Subjects

What to take next year will be decided by high school students by May 15, according to pre-registration officials who have set the day aside for student conferences with advisers.

After selections of the students are compiled, classroom schedules and adjustments will be made, according to Lynn H. Crawford, assistant vice-principal.

It's a Boy! Ruby and Al Adopt Chicago Baby

CHICAGO, Tuesday, May 7. (AP) It's a boy in the Al Jolson-Ruby Keeler home.

Miss Keeler, motion picture actress and wife of the stage and screen comedian, appeared at the Cook county building today and filed papers for the adoption of a seven weeks' old baby boy from The Cradle, in suburban Evanston.

Santa Ana Postman Walks Four Times Around the World

If you had walked almost four times around the world you'd have—well, you'd probably have sore feet, at least.

Earl G. Glenn, Santa Ana mail carrier, has done that and his feet aren't sore either. Maybe a little hot and tired at times, but they're still pretty good "dogs".

Mr. Glenn will retire June 1 after 34 years service as a carrier of Uncle Sam's mail to Santa Ana residents. He'll probably spend his leisure time walking, if the old saw about the postman's vacation holds up.

During his long service Mr. Glenn has averaged about 250 miles a month, or 2,900 miles a year. This sum multiplied by 34 makes 98,600 miles. It is 98,600 miles around the globe.

Mr. Glenn has only 200 miles to go.

Commend Senator On Defeat Of Road Unity Bill

The board of supervisors today passed a resolution commending Senator N. T. Edwards of Orange for his fight in the senate, which resulted in defeat there of the proposed highway unification program.

Orange county supervisors have opposed the plan because of their belief that this county would fare better financially under the present system than under the suggested new one.

Special Lubrication Being Offered Here

For three days, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, May 8-10, a supervised lubrication special will be conducted by Bob Murphy's Garage located at 201-205 North Main street.

This lubrication special, sponsored under the direction of the Santa Ana Motor Parts and Machine works, local distributors of Quaker State Products in this territory, will be under the personal supervision of A. A. Lieberman, lubrication representative from the Quaker State Oil Refining company.

AWARD LARGE JUDGMENT

One of the largest judgments in a damage action ever obtained in Orange county was awarded last night to Mrs. Reba C. Keenan of Los Angeles by a jury in Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's court. Mrs. Keenan sustained severe injuries last October 18 when the car in which she was riding was in a collision with a J and K Produce company truck on the state highway two miles north of San Juan Capistrano.

At 9:53 p. m. yesterday the jury filed into its box after deliberating since 4:16 and returned a verdict for Mrs. Keenan in the amount of $21,726.82.

Defendants in the action were the produce firm, George Jones, driver of the truck, and Harry Jenkins, one of the firm members. There were 11 men on the jury and one woman. The woman, Agness V. Stilwell, was foreman.

Group Pays Tribute To Memory of Mrs. Margaret Spurgeon

Tribute was paid to the memory of Mrs. Margaret J. Spurgeon, who died March 3, in a resolution passed last night at the meeting of the board of directors of the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church south.

Copies of the resolution will be sent members of the family and will be kept in the annals of the church. In recognition of Mrs. Spurgeon's "fidelity to church projects" and her interest in board activities, the resolution expressed the church's loss of her presence and counsel.

"Greatly Encouraged"
"Though missing her personal presence, we feel greatly encouraged and strengthened for our responsible tasks by the memory of her unflinching trust in God and her unswerving fidelity to His church while she was among us, and hereby desire to thus pay this tribute to her memory and services," the resolution continued. The committee signing the document included L. A. West, chairman; C. M. Aker, pastor, and Thomas J. Hunter, superintendent of church school.

Fatal Crash Reminds S. A. Attorney of Cutting Friendship

The spectacular crash of a TWA air liner yesterday near Atlanta, Mo., in which Senator Bronson Cutting of New Mexico was killed, has a more than ordinary significance for N. D. Meyer, Santa Ana attorney, and his brother, Mike Meyer, local service station operator.

Attorney Meyer recalled today that he and Senator Cutting had campaigned together in New Mexico as brother Republicans 10 years ago. They spoke from the same "stump".

By another coincidence, Meyer and his brother are relatives of Dennis Chavez, who was defeated by Senator Cutting at the last election, but this contest has been closed, apparently, by the fatal air crash.

"Chavez, my brother, and I used to go to school together. Chavez and I drove grocery wagons together in Albuquerque, and swam in the same swimming hole," Meyer recalled.

Hospitality Program Outlined by C. of C.

A hospitality program revolving around the various service clubs and civic organizations in Santa Ana was outlined at a meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce yesterday by Rex Kennedy, chairman of the hospitality committee.

At present, plans are only tentative. Mr. Kennedy stated, however, representatives of various organizations when asked for an opinion on the program expressed enthusiasm. The committee will ask that the citizens of Santa Ana co-operate in every way possible to make newcomers to the town feel at home.

Members of the hospitality committee working with Mr. Kennedy are W. F. Croddy, Al Ketchum, Harold Brown, J. W. Estes, Jerry Hall, and Miss Lulu Minter.

MEETING SLATED

The Beaucant circle will meet tomorrow at 12 o'clock in the Masonic temple for luncheon. Mrs. J. H. Shraw is in charge.

MEDICAL GROUP OPENS OFFICE

The opening of a new business institution of interest to all Orange county was announced today when the Orange County Medical bureau, Robert Speed, manager, established offices at 209-210 Pacific building, Third and Broadway, Santa Ana. The announcement stated that the Orange County Medical association which, includes over 100 physicians and surgeons in this county.

The incorporators expect within a short time to purchase a site and erect a building to house the offices of the corporation, an auditorium for medical society meetings, at a county medical library. Enough medical books are already on hand or ready to be contributed by members of the bureau to make an outstanding and complete medical library.

The bureau plans to give collections and credit reports, the arranging for credit terms where needed in medical and surgical cases.

"There has long been a strong sentiment among Orange county members of the medical fraternity that as their interests are practically identical they should be handled through a common office," leaders said today.

Kirby Page Will Be Speaker Here Tonight

"Must We Travel the Moscow Road?" will be the subject of an address by Kirby Page tonight at 7:30 in the Ebell clubhouse before the Santa Ana Valley forum.

Well known on the American platform, Mr. Page is a former editor of World Tomorrow. With Sherwood Eddy, he has carried on seminar studies in Europe for many years. Contributor to numerous books, he has been most concerned with world peace.

For several years, Mr. Page is reported to have spoken annually at Associated Forum groups. The meeting will be open to the public. No admission charge will be made.

DR. COLTRIN TO APPEAL CASE

Dr. F. D. Coltrin, 77, of Fullerton, convicted and sentenced under an indictment of second degree murder, has appealed to the district court of appeals from the judgment and from the order denying defendant's motion for a new trial.

Yesterday afternoon Judge H. G. Ames, on the application of Sharpless Walker and O. A. Jacobs, attorneys for the defendant, granted a certificate of probable cause for appeal, and made an order staying execution of sentence pending appeal.

Counsel for defendant has also filed with the clerk of the court 19 stated grounds of appeal on which the appellant will rely, together with a written statement of the portions of the court reporter's notes it will be necessary to have transcribed to fairly and fully present the appeal.

Charges against Dr. Coltrin were based on the death of Charlotte Valentine, 16, of Santa Ana, last February 14, and on the asserted performance of an illegal operation on February 4.

Water District Hope Reported Brighter

The future of the amendment to the act creating the Orange county water district seemed rosier today. The measure, which would broaden the contractual powers of the district, was reported favorably by the assembly committee yesterday, according to information reaching C. A. Palmer, secretary of the district's board of directors, today.

The proposal already has passed the senate. Recommendation of the committee will bring it to the floor of the assembly. Swift action on the matter is regarded as a possibility here.

The board of directors of the district will meet tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the Garden Grove chamber of commerce. A. W. Rutan, legal counsel for the board, Paul Bailey, consulting engineer, and C. Roy Browning, board member, were at Sacramento yesterday battling opposition to the amendment.

'Model' Boy Shoots Grandmother, Takes Own Life in L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Tuesday, May 7. (AP)—A 16-year-old "model" boy was dead today and his grandmother lay seriously wounded as a result of a "scolding."

The youth, William Harris, was believed to have been upbraided for coming home late from school.

Enraged, he grabbed a gun and shot his grandmother, Mrs. Virginia Johnson, 67, and then took his own life.

Police were unable to learn further details until the grandmother recovers sufficiently.

MORE ABOUT CITRUS PLAN

discussed in the intensive seven hour session. No one was adopted in entirety; the procedure was rather to borrow from each plan.

Some of these proposals are:

The Beck Plan. Creates a pool for all fruit not packed. Control accomplished with fruit, not with money.

Teague Plan. Creates a central organization to determine what is "merchantable fruit" and to establish grades. Provides an assessment on the entire industry to handle surplus.

Prizer Plan. Also provides assessment but would have all fruit not under the California-Arizona market agreement now disposed of by that authority. Surplus would not be prorated but used for other than direct market purposes.

Must Be Acceptable

Citrus men with their experience in cooperative enterprises are well aware that their plan must not only be workable but acceptable to men of widely differing opinions. It is this realization which has allowed the committee to progress rapidly.

Dr. D. D. Waynick who did much basic work on the California-Arizona marketing agreement is chairman of the committee and R. D. Flaherty is secretary. New members to the committee yesterday were E. D. Barnes, Porter-

TUGWELL HEADS THREE-FOLD PROGRAM

(Special to The Journal)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Tuesday, May 7.—First of the set-ups other than the CCC enlargement to be given the "Go" signal by the president under the public works authorization is the resettlement administration. Under-Secretary of Agriculture Tugwell has full charge with ten million dollars to carry out a three-fold program. This includes:

1. Administration of approved projects involving resettlement of destitute or low income families from rural and urban areas, including the establishment, maintenance and operation in such connection of communities in rural and suburban areas;

2. Initiation and administration of a program of approved projects with respect to soil erosion, stream pollution, sea-coast erosion, reforestation and flood control;

3. Granting of loans as authorized by the bill to finance in whole or in part the purchase of farm lands and necessary equipment by farmers, farm tenants, croppers and farm laborers.

Congressman Sam L. Collins is attempting to secure the approval by the New Soil Erosion set-up of a cooperative soil erosion control demonstration project in the 15th California district which he represents. For many years soil erosion has effected a great loss in various parts of that district, and the establishment of such a demonstration project is urged by Collins to guide the land-owners in practical and efficient methods of control. The project sponsored by Collins is well at the head of the list of proposals under consideration for California.

ville, and L. L. Richard, Visalia. Other committeemen are: W. H. Williams, E. D. Patterson, Redlands; N. Matzen, Escondido; John W. Crill, Anaheim; W. E. Spencer, Whittier; H. A. Lynn, Riverside; E. C. Kimball, Ventura; and Wade Flipper, Orange.

SHE ISN'T AN ANGEL, although at her best she comes mighty close to looking like one. But she can be pretty persnickity and cantankerous, with a hot fighting temper that makes her hard to handle. And when she gets in a tantrum, she just squalls. But when she likes you, there's nothing she won't do for you. Her heart's always in the right place and she's loads of fun. She's a swell kid and you'll like her a lot.

HUNTINGTON BEACH TIDELANDS BATTLE SHIFTS TO LEGISLATURE

REPORT LEAVES QUESTION OF PLAN OPEN

Whipstock and Direct Drilling Advocates Remain Active

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Tuesday, May 7.—Reports from Sacramento today indicated that the battle over exploiting the state's tideland oil resources at Huntington Beach will be precipitated onto the floor of the legislature.

The assembly committee which conducted a hearing in the matter at Huntington Beach April 27 reported today, leaving the question open whether the vast pool of black gold shall be developed by whipstock drilling from the shore, or by wells probing directly into the state oil from the ocean.

Groups favoring both schemes have been very active and are expected to continue their endeavors to have their respective schemes adopted.

The committee's recommendation was for a general policy of exploiting the state pools by granting leases to private companies to whipstock wells from the adjacent uplands, an Associated Press report said.

Legislature's Lap

This, however, was qualified in the report. Squared in the lap of the legislature the committee placed the question of whether an exception might be made in case of the Huntington Beach pool to allow direct tideland drilling.

This suggestion is expected to throw the Huntington Beach controversy open to the legislative floors.

The report pointed out that a "peculiar situation" exists at Huntington Beach because three companies, Standard Oil, Signal Oil and Hancock Oil, control all the littoral lands there, so that "restricted drilling from the uplands would be entirely conducted by these companies."

In a supplementary report, Assemblymen William Moseley Jones and Ben Rosenthal, both of Los Angeles county, went even further in declaring their belief the Huntington Beach pool could not adequately be developed by upland drilling and that the only way the state might receive the most in royalties from that pool would be to allow competitive drilling directly on the tidelands.

TUSTIN GIRL IS INJURED

TUSTIN, Tuesday, May 7.—Accidentally shooting her left foot, Miss Lois Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Stone, Culver road, was rushed to Laguna Beach Sunday, where Dr. B. B. Mason gave her first aid. The accident occurred when she was trying to open the bath house door at Irvine beach with a loaded 22 pistol in her left hand. Although the wound is quite painful, the injury is not serious, as the bullet hit a bone and glanced off, making a flesh wound.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hume have moved from Pacific avenue to South Broadway in Santa Ana. They are planning to leave for Chicago May 15 on a vacation trip.

Among the successful fishermen at Newport Sunday were A. L. Webster, Bud Mitchell, Ben Wallenberg and Bill Aiken.

Members of the Tustin eighth grade dancing class had a semi-formal dancing party in the Putnam studios Monday evening.

Fullerton Officials Inspect Big Aqueduct

FULLERTON, Tuesday, May 7.—Several city officials and their friends from Fullerton spent the week end inspecting developments on the Colorado river aqueduct, going as far as headquarters at Rice.

Included in the party were Mayor W. L. Hale, Councilman George Lilly, Fred Hezmalchal, city clerk; Albert Launer, city attorney; Harry May, chamber of commerce secretary, and D. P. Maynard, Harold Hale and Walter Humphries, Fullerton director in the Metropolitan water district, who conducted the trip.

Lodge Men Guests of Fullerton Group

FULLERTON, Tuesday, May 7.—Members of Fullerton lodge 103 of the I. O. O. F. were hosts to Orange county Odd Fellows and their wives and friends at a meeting held last night in the local hall.

The meeting was featured by southern music and spirituals. Preceding the program a short business meeting was held.

Playground Action Is Ordered

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Tuesday, May 7.—City council last night allocated $500 toward the first of three units of a beach playground, to be established east of the pier.

The money will take care of salary and equipment, which will include swings and other playground apparatus.

Fire Chief J. K. Sargent was instructed to name a head lifeguard, to serve temporarily, at $135 per month. Two assistants will be provided by the S.E.R.A.

The council, at last night's meeting, ordered purchase of a new $7,000 street sweeper.

SCHOOL BOARD MEET SET

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Tuesday, May 7.—A hot meeting is scheduled for tonight, when the elementary school board meets, as a result of the requested resignation of C. D. Baldwin, superintendent of schools.

It was learned yesterday that Mr. Baldwin's resignation had been asked by the board on the ground of "lack of cooperation."

Mr. Russell denies the charges and announces that he will fight to hold his job.

Immediately after the first meeting of the board, when the resignation request was voted, W. J. Bristol, newly-elected president of the board, left for the east.

At tonight's meeting, which, it is expected, will be largely attended by townpeople, only Board Members L. F. Whittaker and L. H. Benningsdorf will be on hand.

Group Honors Daughter of Owen A. Murray

TUSTIN, Tuesday, May 7.—Honoring the birthday anniversary of Miss Arden Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Owen A. Murray entertained a group of young people at Irvine beach. Present were the Misses Arden and Lois Murray, Margaret Gruwell, Messrs. Charles Kiser, all of Tustin, and Al Parr and Garold Downing of Laguna Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tilden had Mr. and Mrs. George Seiben of Venice as dinner guests Sunday.

A family group honored the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Ruben L. Farnsworth at Irvine park Sunday. They were Mr. and Mrs. Farnsworth and daughter, Marie, and sons, Messrs. Cecil and Elmer Farnsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Curl of Tustin, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Farnsworth and baby, of Talbert.

Mrs. L. E. Allen and daughter, Lewellyn, and her house guest, Miss Martha Stanley of Eagle Rock, spent Sunday at Corona del Mar.

Celebrating the birthday anniversary of Gavin H. Baxter, a family group enjoyed a steak bake at Irvine park Sunday. Present besides the honoree and their children, were Miss Marian and Bobby Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lloyd Prunty and children, James, Betty Jean and Francis.

Ladies from the Tustin Presbyterian church who attended Presbyterial in Los Angeles Monday were Mesdames R. E. Carswell, Charles L. Hallet, B. F. Beswick, Killiam Kellams, Charles Marshall, Calvin Duncan and her mother, Mrs. Matthews of Tucson, Arizona, who is her house guest, and Miss Marjorie Rawlings.

HIBBS TURNS PROMOTER. LAGUNA BEACH, Cal., May 7.—Jesse Hibbs, former all-American tackle at the University of Southern California, has opened a set of badminton and table tennis courts here.

THEN SHE WAS SILENT But, Alas, 'Twas Too Late

CAPISTRANO, Tuesday, May 7.—Overheard in the drug store—A smart-looking couple, obviously tourists, definitely Boston when they spoke, sat down at the counter for a light snack—cold plate and tea.

The attractive woman looked over her tilted coup at the refreshing marine paintings on the wall. "We must be near the ocean, Henry," she observed conversationally. "Yes, dear," said Henry. "Only a few miles farther on."

"Oh, have you been here before?"

"Years ago," Henry dreamily recalled.

"How interesting," she replied absently. "And this is the town with the lovely mission. I'm so anxious to see it."

JULY FOURTH EVENT IS PLANNED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Tuesday, May 7.—Plans for holding a huge Fourth of July celebration here was started today at the luncheon-meeting of the chamber of commerce held in the California cafe. An old idea to establish an open air auditorium with a large seating capacity on the beach front was revived by civic leaders.

That the city is in need of a spacious auditorium on the beach to provide a place for the entertainment of the throngs that visit the city was pointed out by W. A. Gallienne and Dr. Douglas Hough. Fourth of July programs of entertainment, band concerts and many other kinds of programs could then be given to attract more visitors here, the speakers suggested.

There is a need for many seats to accommodate the city's guests, and the seats in the open-air theater could be utilized on many occasions, Mr. Gallienne declared. Judge C. P. Patton presided at the meeting after Mrs. May S. Jackson, secretary, opened the meeting. President W. J. Bristol is on vacation in the east and both vice-presidents were absent on business.

FARM CENTER TO MEET THURSDAY

GARDEN GROVE, Tuesday, May 7.—Murray Thompson, Orange county flood control engineer and Edward Hall of Santa Ana are scheduled as speakers for the Garden Grove Farm Center meeting Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Woman's club house.

Mr. Thompson will discuss the efficiency of the pumping plant unit as compared to the individual pump, while Mr. Hall will use as his subject as well as lead a discussion on "How the Farmer May Obtain Aid to Repair Buildings and Farming Equipment Through the F.H.A." Mr. Hall is a member of the county Farm Bureau Relief projects committee.

The musical program for the evening will be furnished by Frank Pierce of Santa Ana, who is the Farm Bureau music director. During the social hour at the close of the business session strawberry shortcake will be served by members of the home department.

Midway City Woman Entertains at Shower

Mrs. Robert Lowry, Midway City, entertained with a shower Saturday afternoon honoring her sister-in-law, Miss Mary Katherine Lowry, whose wedding will take place in June. Miss Lowry is a teacher in the Delhi school, Santa Ana, and lives at 465 South Orange street, Orange. Guests presented her with homemade jellies, jams and fruit, wrapped in bright cellophane. Blue larkspur and iris were used as decorations, and bridge was the pastime of the 27 guests.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Roy Tulene and Miss Marcella Turner, both of Orange.

The condition of Mrs. Winfred Ligon, 467 South Orange street, who had an emergency operation early Friday morning at St. Joseph's hospital, is reported as fair. Mrs. Ligon is not permitted visitors.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Shannon, 137 East Maple, Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Balzer and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Conroy, Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Harper, 139 East River street, and Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Culter of El Modena, went to San Bernardino Sunday to visit the father of Mr. Harper and brother of Mr. Culter, S. B. Culter, who is a patient at the San Bernardino hospital. It is reported that his condition is showing slight improvement.

Pomona Group Will Pay Visit to Harbor One Day Next Week

NEWPORT BEACH, Tuesday, May 7.—Word was received here today that 75 members of the Pomona chamber of commerce will visit Newport Harbor next week. The purpose of the trip will be a personal inspection, by members, of the improvements now being conducted in the harbor. The group will arrive in time for an early breakfast and will be escorted over the bay by a special committee from the local chamber of commerce.

PROGRAM GIVEN BY STUDENTS

ORANGE, May 7.—Several students from Orange Union high school presented a courtesy program for the benefit of guests in the lobby of the Laguna hotel, Saturday evening. Solo, duet and sextet numbers were presented from the operetta, "Bells of Capistrano," given recently in the high school. Those who sang were Helen Mollica, Doris Ascher, Dorothy Flintham, Betty Kingsley, Eleanor Kolkhorst, Wilma Stanfield, Charles Armstrong, Weldon Dillingham, Dick Harbottle, Vernon Obarr, Wayne Carlson. Several dance numbers were presented by four members of the chorus, Gertrude Rathke, Barbara Sutherland, Lora Friedrichs and Ruth Taute. Dick Harbottle served as master of ceremonies Jeannette Winget played all accompaniments.

Mrs. Cal. D. Lester, teacher in the intermediate school and wife of City Councilman Cal. D. Lester, is slightly improved it is reported from the Sisters of Saint Joseph hospital, where she has been a patient for the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Goodwin, West Palmyra avenue residents, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Goodwin of Downey.

While swimming in a deep part of Balboa Bay, Sunday, Miriam Powell received two cuts, one deep, on the top of her left foot.

PUPILS TO GET HOLIDAY

WESTMINSTER, Tuesday, May 7.—Westminster schools will declare a holiday on Friday, May 31, as Decoration day falls on Thursday. The additional holiday will provide a vacation of three full days, and a fine opportunity to take the children to the San Diego fair.

Mrs. Claude Hardesty, Mrs. Orion Bebermeyer, Mrs. N. L. Otis, Mrs. Francis Dell and Mrs. R. P. Meairs, were luncheon guests today of Mrs. Cecilia Hardesty in Beverly Hills.

An organ and piano recital was given by George Clough, assisted by Miss Pauline Farquhar of Long Beach, at his studio in Westminster on Saturday evening. An interesting program of classical music was presented by Mr. Clough and Miss Farquhar.

Motion Picture to Be Shown in Orange Presbyterian Church

ORANGE, Tuesday, May 7.—A colored motion picture, with amplified sound, entitled "Son of Man," will be presented at the Presbyterian church, Wednesday evening, May 8. Admission is free, and every one is welcome. This is a beautiful version of the life of Christ, and was two years in the making. It was taken in Judea and surrounding parts of Palestine. Dr. Morrison will give a lecture throughout the picture. It is suggested that children be accompanied by adults.

Mrs. C. W. Ritter, West Chapman avenue, entertained with a dinner in honor of her niece, Miss Faye Sutton, Garden Grove. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Sutton, James Ritter, and the occasion was the sixteenth birthday of Miss Sutton, which was Friday, May 3.

Miss Nita Walton, teacher in Orange Union high school, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Walton spent the week-end at Newport Beach.

Eastern Star to End Session Early Thursday

GARDEN GROVE, Tuesday, May 7.—The Garden Grove chapter of the Eastern Star will open and close its meeting early Thursday evening in order that officers and members may attend the annual Party Night at which September Chapter of Orange is entertaining. The Garden Grove chapter will meet at 7:30 instead of 8.

RUINS OF OLD MISSION OF MORE VALUE THAN GOLD

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Tuesday, May 7.—More valuable than a gold mine are the treasures that lie hidden beneath the historic old grounds of Mission San Juan Capistrano; but even of greater value are the well preserved ruins that still stand for anyone to see. For here is a wealth of art and historic romance that every effort is made to save for generations to come. Father Hutchinson is devoting his life to that purpose—preserving the records, the remnants, of a crumbling monument to the early California Padres.

As Father Hutchinson strolls about the grounds, his eyes are ever alert for opportunities to plan the work of saving an old wall from falling. He ponders a system of jacks, braces, tie rods and turn buckles, whatever is needed to counteract the ravages of the years. When funds are sufficient, the work is done.

Rain, wind and time takes its toll. Slowly these magnificent columns are sifting away into dust. Old walls of original clay brick that once housed stores of grain and olives are gradually succumbing to erosion. As rapidly as weather-proofing clay can be procured, this substance is artistically applied, and the good work goes on.

Ceiling Threatened In the community room, where the Fathers once gathered for consultation, the magnificent tile ceiling is threatened with destruction. Father Hutchinson points out that two 12x12 beams, about 40 feet long, are needed to be installed as braces to support the termite-ridden rafters. The walls on either end of the room are four and five feet thick, respectively.

STUDENTS HOLD BEACH PARTY

TUSTIN, Tuesday, May 7.—With swimming and games vying for student interest, safety monitors from the Tustin grammar school staged a beach party at Corona Del Mar Monday afternoon, with Miss Mildred Staples, Miss Irene Catland, Mrs. Eleanor Palmer and George Gaylord, teachers, acting as chaperones.

Picnic supper was served to the following students: Betty Kellams, Millard Foster, Faye Kodama, Millard Foster, Jimmie Fultz, Mary Louise Leinberger, Frances Buchheim, Donald Howelly, Julia Linker, Raymond Juerra, Robert Shostag, Mutsuko Nishi, Minari Yoshida, Spencer Browning, Glena Jean Foster and Marvin Lawrence.

Dr. James A. Walton, head of the Anti-Cigarette league in Los Angeles, will address members of the Tustin W. C. T. U. at their regular meeting at 2 p. m. May 10 in the Presbyterian church parlor, Mrs. Margaret Utt, president, announced today.

Talking on a timely subject, "Becoming High School Citizens," Miss Emma B. Hield, vice-principal of Tustin union high school, will address the regular meeting of the Tustin grammar school P. T. A. at 2:30 p. m., May 9, in the kindergarten room, Mrs. Charles N. Archer, program chairman, announced today.

Friendly Club Party at Mrs. P. Miller's

GARDEN GROVE, Tuesday, May 7.—Mrs. Pearl Miller of West Garden Grove boulevard was hostess for the recent all day meeting of the Friendship club.

At a brief business meeting conducted by Mrs. Mary Irwin and Mrs. Jennie Critton plans were made for a meeting June 6 at Huntington Beach when a fish dinner will be featured. The remainder of the day was spent socially.

Mrs. Leo Zlakit Gives Benefit Card Party

GARDEN GROVE, Tuesday, May 7.—Bright colored spring flowers decorated the Leo Zlakit home on East Acacia street when Mrs. Zlakit, Mrs. Luther Yeager, Mrs. I. A. Miller, Mrs. G. A. Luz and Mrs. Oscar Rutledge entertained at a benefit card party for the Friendly Woman's club recently.

Mrs. Sullivan and Albert Bradley won bridge prizes, and Harry Jentges and John Jones the 500 awards. P. V. Banks of Santa Ana received the door prize.

Important Meeting Slated FISH RESERVE HEARING TO BE TONIGHT

NEWPORT BEACH, Tuesday, May 7.—The regular meeting of the directors of the Newport Harbor chamber of commerce will be held Wednesday, May 15 at the city hall. The meeting has been delayed because of the hearing to be held in Sacramento this evening.

Important subjects that will be discussed at the meeting include the proposed budget, which will be reported upon by Mr. Claud Pullen, harbor matters, which will be presented by Mr. A. B. Rouselle, the erection of four large signs within the city limits to attract the attention of visitors to the San Diego exposition, and a discussion of plans for the International Star boat races to be held here next August.

The proposal to revive the Orange county fair with a race week included will be discussed as will be the annual Tournament of Lights and the securing of a Sea Scout base for Newport Harbor.

Garden Grove People on Camping Trips

GARDEN GROVE, Tuesday, May 7.—Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Williams are vacationing this week at Yosemite and San Francisco.

Omar Williams in company with other members of the Santa Ana Junior Lions club attended the Junior Lions tri-state three day convention held in Pasadena over the week end. Included in the convention program was the ball given Saturday evening in honor of the governor of the district.

Dr. C. C. Violett in company with Dr. H. A. Johnston and Dr. E. F. Cain of Anaheim, Doctors J. M. Burlew, J. L. Maroon and W. P. Baker, Santa Ana, attended the Southern California Medical association meeting at Arrowhead Springs, Saturday afternoon and evening. The same group went to Riverside for the meeting there Monday afternoon and evening of the Tri-counties (Riverside, San Bernardino and Orange Medical association meeting.

Included in a party enjoying a week end camping trip at Ensenada were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnson and daughter Aelene, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Reafsnider, Mrs. Eleanor Casady, Miss Helen Knox, Lester Frink and Kenneth Dungan.

NEWPORT BEACH, Tuesday, May 7.—The hearing before the assembly fish and game committee to be held in Sacramento this evening will be attended by the same group that was present last week with but few changes, according to word received here today. Mayor Frank Champion of Laguna Beach will not be able to attend, due to press of official business.

San Clemente will be represented at the hearing by Mayor A. T. Smith and David G. Kinney. Laguna will be represented by Leslie F. Kimmell. Mayor T. B. Talbert and Councilman L. Channess will attend from Huntington Beach, and Harry Welch, secretary of the Orange County Coast association, and M. S. Robinson, editor of the Pacific Skiller, will represent Newport Beach.

The bill to be discussed at the hearing is designed to set up a fishing reserve along the entire Orange county coast line as far out as the three-mile limit. A definite decision is expected at the meeting tonight.

Mrs. C. B. Henry Is Host at Gathering

GARDEN GROVE, Tuesday, May 7.—Mrs. C. B. Henry invited a group of friends to her home, 145 N. Pine street, for a luncheon bridge, Saturday. The spring flower theme was used in all appointments, as well as for the card games. Pottery prizes were awarded Mrs. W. B. Merchant for high score, and Mrs. G. R. Lynch for low. Mrs. Mary Richey received the traveling prize.

The guests were Mesdames I. D. Wallingford, of Bolina; Dorothy Thornburg, Long Beach; Jack Jentges, J. Orland Smith, G. R. Lynch, May Richey, A. J. Woodworth, E. O. Fulson, A. C. Robbins, J. A. Williams, W. B. Merchant, J. L. Mitchell, Maggie Mae Reed, W. J. Newsom, and L. W. Schauer.

COLUMN LEFT!

By FRANK ROGERS

Soon the fair will be fuller than the Kentucky derby stands with predictions, maledictions and prognostications as to who will stack up winner in the forthcoming Max Baer-Jimmy Braddock titular tussle.

We won't be among the guessers. Because we don't believe that at that time we will have found the answer to a deeper puzzle, i.e., "Why James Jay Braddock?"

Maybe we'll wish we hadn't said that when the fight is done, but just now it ranks among unanswered questions stacked in a dusty corner of our cerebrum reserved for such tidbits as: Why six-day bike races? Why Man Mountain Dean? And who can name three left-handed pitchers in the American League?

This seems to be whatever-it-is-we're-against day, so we're now prepared to take our stand on the proposal that a second Southern California race track be built in this neighborhood.

Can't see a bit of sense to it. One such plant—so long as Santa Anita stays as good as it is—a large plenty for Southland sports.

The season offered at Arcadia is plenty of amusement and constitutes a plenty large outlet for spare cash—and we're not against that—for this territory.

And our state commission that has to do with such delicate subjects has proven itself a very astute body and is not likely to break out in any such rash plan as a lot of people hope.

So, save your pennies until Santa Anita opens again.

Outstanding among the many things that have impressed us since our arrival here is the fact that no matter how tough the competition, how good the record or how large the odds, Santa Ana high school and junior college performers seem to come through with something remarkable.

Their track teams, for instance. Beaten as a team, each squad produced one record breaker against the very best grade of opponents. Something of the good old do-or-die in that, isn't there?

Wanderings: Why do they call 'em "greyhounds"? Who remembers George Young? Swimming marks seem to be broken more often than others... track marks must be a close second... Few fans, ourself included, see everything that is to be seen at a ball game.

RACE SCHEDULE IS REVEALED

SAN FRANCISCO, Tuesday, May 7. (AP)—George W. Schilling, presiding steward at Tanforan and Agua Caliente, has laid plans to keep the thoroughbreds in the West this summer.

Caliente will continue its three-day week schedule until July 4, said Schilling, and then will open either a five or six day week. This, supplemented by a 59-day session at Seattle, beginning June 14, will keep the horses busy until fair time in California.

Following the fairs, Tanforan and Bay Meadows will be ready to open their short, snappy programs, and, according to Schilling, horsemen will keep their horses in the West rather than go to the expense of long hauls over the Rockies.

After a one-day layoff, racing was to be resumed today at Tanforan. Sarah W. was favored to cop the sixth race. She headed a list composed of Squeezor, Spicatte, Sicklebill, Dandy Dancer, High Man and Beadwork.

LONG RUN MADE BY STRANSKE

Arthur Stranske, Santa Ana high school's all-star contribution to Coach Howard Jones' Trojans, caught a long pass from Bill Howard, veteran quarterback and rambled 60 yards to score one of the touchdowns in the University of Southern California's annual spring football game at the Coliseum yesterday.

The blond Stranske, captain of Santa Ana's 1933 track team and regular fullback for Coach Bill Foot's Saints the same year, played with the "Whites," coached by Jeff Cravath, and lost to the "Reds" by a score of 21-14 in the finale to spring football at the Trojan plant. Stranske played fullback for the Trojan yearlings last year, and was pitted at this position yesterday.

MAJOR CHASE IS TURNING DOG FIGHT

Dark Horses in Both Loops Are Making Much Trouble

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Tuesday, May 7. (AP)—Not in many years have the two major league championships resembled old-fashioned "dog fights" so much as they do this spring.

It is, of course, quite true that two of the prime favorites, the Cleveland Indians and New York Giants, have been doing very well when it is considered that both clubs have patched up their infielders. The Indians may be stronger when Billy Knickerbocker returns to action and the Giants will be better off, defensively, with Hughey Critz back at second base.

They will need to be. Already the dark horses in both leagues, led by the Chicago White Sox in the American, the Brooklyn Dodgers and Cincinnati Reds in the National, have upset several barrels of dope.

The White Sox, on top today, may be too good to last but there is no fluke in their jump from the 1934 cellar to such dizzy heights. Johnny Whitehead, the freshman righthander who has scored four victories in a row, and his former Dallas pitching mate, Joe Vance, have filled two of the club's pitching gaps.

Champs Start Slowly
Both championship clubs, Detroit's Tigers and the St. Louis Cardinals have started slowly but they will be tougher to beat as the season develops. The Bengals already have snapped out of their slump, though Schoolboy Rowe has yet to show a return to his sensational 1934 form.

The Cardinals have missed Manager Frankie Frisch and Pepper Martin, both casualties, but the Deans are coming along now, aided by Bill Walker, to furnish the kind of pitching the club needs.

The rookie surprise of the National league is Elijah Dardel (Cy) Blanton, screwball righthander of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Blanton has taken the pitching spotlight from Dizzy Dean with his exploits so far, which include a one-hit shutout of the Cardinals and 3-2 decision over the great Dean. Cy has registered four straight and fanned 30 opposing batsmen.

Cubs Are Poison
All told Blanton has had a hand in five of the nine games won by the Pirates, who will need to get more consistent pitching otherwise to menace the leaders. The Cubs again seem to be poison to the Dean brothers, beating Dizzy and Paul on successive days.

OLD TRADITION RIDES IN PREAKNESS

Baltimore Classic For Three-Year-Olds Features Famous Woodlawn Vase, Antedates Kentucky Derby

A stirring moment in the 1934 Preakness, when High Quest conquered his stablemate and Derby winner, Calvalcade, in an epic finish. At right, the historic 75-year-old Woodlawn vase.

By PAUL SIMMONS.

BALTIMORE, May 7 (AP)—Hoofbeats of the nation's prize 3-year-olds thundering down the stretch at the Pimlico race course on May 11 will pound out a new chapter in a turf tradition dating back three quarters of a century.

It will be the annual running of the Preakness, eastern race classic, which antedates the famous Kentucky Derby by two years. The best of the 1935 crop of thoroughbreds in the age limit will try their mettle in the mile-and-three-sixteenths test.

The Derby outcome is always a prime factor in rating the Preakness favorite. Often mentioned in early speculation were C. V. Whitney's Today, Mrs. Walter M. Jefferson's Commonwealth, William Woodward's Omaha, Elwood Sachseman's Roman Soldier and Warren Wright's Nellie Flag.

Same Purse as Derby.
The battle of horsemanship and jockey skill will be for $40,000 added money value, same as the Blue Grass classic, and the honor of enrolling the winner with a string of famous victors dating back to 1873.

J. F. Chamberlain's greyhoundlike colt Survivor, by Vandal, swept across the finish first that year. A handsome painting of this first winner decorates the walls of the Maryland Jockey club's quarters at Pimlico.

In Preakness lore, Survivor rivals the fame of the horse for which the race was named—M. H. Stanford's stout colt by Lexington out of Bay Leaf. The Preakness colt's victory in 1870 in the celebrated Dinner Party stakes, perpetuated now as the Dixie Handicap, was so outstanding that the Pimlico fixture was inaugurated three years later as a memorial.

This thoroughbred was so well favored that he had been given the name of the town where he was bred—Preakness, N. J.

Vase Was Made in 1860.

The historical background of the race is reinforced by its trophy, the Woodlawn vase. Made in 1860 for Colonel R. A. Alexander of Kentucky for the Woodlawn Racing association, it has been the prize of many an exciting race. During the civil war it was buried with other family silver for safekeeping.

The historic vase was presented to the Maryland Jockey club in 1917 and has been added to the Preakness since then. Each successive owner has consented to put it again for competition. The last was Mrs. Dodge Sloane whose High Quest beat Calvalcade, his stablemate and Derby winner, in an epic finish last year.

FRITZ OSTERMUELLER STARS Boston Southpaw In Top Form CHISOX GAIN LEAGUE LEAD

By HERBERT W. BARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Joe Cronin finally has found a southpaw who can travel the route. The news in that statement is that he should have to wait three weeks before one of his Boston left-handers pitched a complete game. On paper, at least, the Red Sox have the strongest postside pitching contingent in the major leagues.

Fritz Ostermuller, a sophomore member of the southpaw staff which also includes Bob Grove, Ruben Walberg and George Hockeater, reached top form yesterday just in time to outpoint Oral Hildebrand in a tight pitching argument, beat the Cleveland Indians, 2-1, and elevate the idle Chicago White Sox to the American lead league.

Fritz, 45th in American league pitching percentages last season but ninth in the earned run ratings with an average of 3.48 runs per nine-inning game, had all his stuff against the Indians. A base on balls to Sammy Hale and Bruce Campbell's pop fly double gave Cleveland its lone run in the sixth but Ostermuller was in complete control otherwise.

Few Go Route
Not only did Ostermuller become the first Red Sox left-hander to pitch a complete game but the third Boston flinger of any kind to go the route. Previously only Wes Ferrell and Johnny Weich had been able to finish what they started.

Their defeat sent the Indians into second place with nine victories and four defeats, the White Sox going to the top with 11 and 4.

The only other major league game of the day found the Pittsburgh Pirates staging another garrison finish to whip the Boston Braves, 8 to 6.

Neither starting pitcher, Ralph Birkhofer of the Pirates and Flint of the Braves, got past the second inning and the teams started all over again in the third with the score tied at 5-5. Doubles by Urbanski and Mallon off Waite Hoyt gave the Braves the lead in the seventh but the Corsairs scored three off Larry Benton and Huck Betts in the ninth to win.

These runs came on a pass to Babe Herman, pinch hitting for Hoyt, a double by Lloyd Waner, his fourth hit of the game, a single by Jensen, an error by Al Spohrer and Gus Suhr's long fly. Cy Blanton, Pirate freshman pitching sensation, stopped the Braves cold in the ninth, fanning two men to bring his third strikeouts for the season to 30.

RETZLAFF FACES CHAS. MASSERA
LOS ANGELES, Tuesday, May 7. (AP)—Charley Retzlaff, husky product of a Duluth, Minn., farm, gets a chance to re-establish himself as a favorite here tonight when he goes into the ring against Charley Massera, 210-pound Pittsburgh colt miner, at the Olympic auditorium.

CITY LEAGUE BALL GAMES SLATED

Seven aggregations will usher in the 1935 softball season of the Santa Ana City league inside the municipal bowl next Monday and Thursday. Play will continue twice weekly through June 17.

Meeting in the offices of Lloyd Banks, city auditor, last night, league officials drafted the new schedule, as follows:

Monday, May 13—Commercial National bank vs. M. E. South juniors; Elks club vs. Union Oil.

Thursday, May 16—M. E. South seniors vs. twenty-third club; First National bank vs. M. E. South juniors.

Since there are only seven entered this year, one team will be required to play twice during some weeks.

Elks Powerful
With another formidable array of talent, the Elks threaten to retain their championship, although competition is said to be keener than ever before. More than 40 prospects have reported for the 20-30 club. All teams have engaged in a brief practice-game schedule to determine starting lineups for next week.

Judge Kenneth E. Morrison, president of the City league, has turned general charge over to Billie Kintz, well known umpire. Tom Moore will serve as official scorer.

The schedule:

Santa Ana Night Baseball League

Monday, May 13

Spurgeon M. E. So. Jr. vs. Commercial Nat'l Bank; Elks Club vs. Union Oil Company.

Thursday, May 16

Spurgeon M. E. So. Jr. vs. 20-30 Club; First Nat'l Bank vs. Spurgeon M. E. So. Jr.

THIRTY SAINTS ARE HONORED IN TRACK

Twenty-eight trackmen and two managers will be honored with monograms by the physical education department at Santa Ana high school, Coach Reece "Pinky" Greene announced today.

Heading the parade of Class A, B and C lettermen will be the dependable Bill Hawkins, elongated captain of the Saint forces who single-handedly has amassed 117 points—mainly in the high and low hurdles—this season. This total easily tops the record of 85 points earned by Art Stranske, Saint "Iron-man," last year. Hawkins scored 82½ digits in '34.

The dark-haired hurdler promises to increase his enviable point-total Saturday when the Saints trek to Long Beach Woodrow Wilson for trials leading up to the Southern California prep league finals in the Los Angeles Coliseum May 18. He has scored 67 points in Coast league dual meets, 40 in non-conference competition, and 10 in the Coast league finals.

The honor roll:

Class A
Captain Bill Hawkins, high and low hurdles, shot put.
Delbert Beard, half-mile.
Dick DeSmet, 100 and 220-yard dashes.
Harold Eastham, quarter-mile.
Cameron Gillis, broad-jump.
Ines Granados, mile.
Crawford Jones, half-mile.
Tom Matzen, 220-yard dash.
Bliss Mercurio, high jump.
Bob Reif, high and low hurdles.
Clinton Roberts, half-mile.
Leonard Stafford, pole vault and broad jump.
Al Tifensor, mile run.
Fred Tifensor, quarter-mile and furlong.
Herchel Whitney, 120-yard run and mile.

Class B
Bill Brooks, 70-yard high hurdles and dashes.
Worth Elliott, 120-yard run.
Elson Gaebe, 120-yard run.
Franklin Guthrie, high hurdles.
Russell Johnson, 120-yard run.
Mitsuo Nitta, pole vault.
Dwight Nott, low hurdles and pole vault.
Deering Waggoner, 660-yard run.

Class C
Robert Arbisio, 50-yard dash, broad jump.
Raul Gonzales, 660-yard run.
George Ogata, pole vault.
Fred Pimental, high hurdles.

Managers
Edward Velarde, head of Class A, B and C divisions.

JIMMY COATES HURLS FINE BALL; AIRTIGHT DEFENSE HELPS MOUND ACE

By way of serving notice on Olive's Packers, who invade the municipal bowl a week from tonight for Santa Ana's National Night Ball league inaugural, Manager Bill Cole's vastly-improved Stars polished off Colton's Reds of the American league, 7 to 3, in a sparkling exhibition game here last night.

GOES FOR GOLF

Characterized by spectacular fielding of some of the hardest hit drives of the season, and masterful pitching by young Jim Coates—ace of the Santa Ana mound staff—the contest was by far the smoothest played by the Stars this spring.

The Santa Ana triumph averaged a 5-1 set-back which Colton, American league favorite, recently slipped over on the Stars at Colton.

Coates Fans Seven

Striking out seven visitors and limiting them to eight hits distributed through six innings, the clever Coates had the dangerous Colton hitters well under control in all but the third, when two doubles and a single brought in a pair of runs.

Cecil "Lefty" Watson, Colton's jabbering first-baseman who usually loses the ball against ordinary pitching, was retired on easy infield chances three times, and beat out a cheap single in the eighth to keep from going hitless.

The offerings of John Kemp, fast-ball artist, were to Santa Ana's liking, the Cole artillery collecting 11 hits off the tall gunner in five innings. Venn Botts, Colton's brilliant twirler with the weird wind-up, relieved him in the sixth. He struck out four and allowed but two hits in the remaining three frames.

Score Five in Second

The Stars sewed up the game tighter than a Pullman window in the second. Batting completely around, they began connecting for base hits and didn't know when to stop. Rod Ballard led off with a sharp single to center. Tom Young popped up to short, but Ernie Acker singled and "Bono" Koral, one of the big guns of the Star attack, lined out a freak triple over first to score both Ballard and Acker. Pitcher Coates and Tom Lay singled, Coates scoring on LeRoy Sears' long fly to right field and Lacy advancing to third, from where he scored on a passed ball by Catcher Bramlett. Koral crossed the plate on Coates' timely hit.

The American leaguers got back two of the runs in the third on doubles by Emery and Johnson and Alexander's single. Santa Ana scored once in the fifth on singles by Frances Conrad and Young, and again in the sixth on Sears' one-base blow which scored Koral, who got on by a walk.

Johnson Knocks Homer

Airtight fielding was an outstanding feature of the interesting struggle. Colton's Gilbert made a beautiful one-handed catch of Acker's high liner to right field in the third, and threw to second to trap Ballard in a neat double play. "Chub" Sears of Santa Ana went clear back to the score-board to rob Catcher Bramlett of a hit in the eighth. Infielder Lacy faded back to make a difficult catch of Shadd's fly to deep short in the ninth.

Offensively, Koral and Conrad shone for three hits. Koral received a triple, two singles and walk for a perfect night at bat. Conrad rapped three consecutive singles before fanning his final two times to the platter.

CITY COUNCIL HEARS PLANNED RECREATIONAL PROGRAM OUTLINED

COMMITTEE TO CONSIDER PROPOSAL

Young Adults Would Benefit From Project

The advisability of providing a chance for young adults to have a planned recreational program and facilities was suggested to the city council last night by R. R. Russick, director of such activities for the S.E.R.A. in Orange county.

Mayor Fred Rowland appointed Councilmen Ernest H. Layton and Joseph P. Smith to confer with Russick and investigate the suggestion. Included in Russick's program for future consideration was provision for a recreational hall which could be used for dances, under competent supervision.

Russick submitted a chart showing how such a program might be organized. He also called attention to the playground system which has been operated during summer months, but pointed out that the project he was suggesting was for older persons.

Grants Request

The council granted a request for permission to plant a tree on the Bowers Memorial museum grounds, in honor of Mrs. Estelle P. Gray of this city, president of the Women's Relief corps in this state and Nevada. The request was submitted by Mrs. Lula Hall, junior past president of the organization here.

On the recommendation of the state division of highways, the council authorized installation of a four-inch water main on Grand avenue between Seventeenth street and Santa Clara avenue. This is a section of a state highway program soon to be under construction. The two-inch main there at present is 25 years old. A fire hydrant also will be installed near Grand and Santa Clara.

The Chamber of Commerce was granted permission to decorate street light poles on Fourth street between Bush street and Broadway, for a three-day period starting May 11.

A resolution was adopted authorizing minor changes in plans for the city hall now under construction. The changes will include routing the fire alarm conduct through the police station, and building a bridge across a court to make the council chambers more accessible.

A permit to construct a service station at First and Wright streets was granted to Hazel A. Bunge. He applied for a permit to construct a service station at Broadway and Tenth streets, filed by Shipkey and Pearson, was tabled pending appointment of a new planning commission within the next month. The request of William L. Hamilton for authority to operate a poultry yard at 1721 West Washington street was granted.

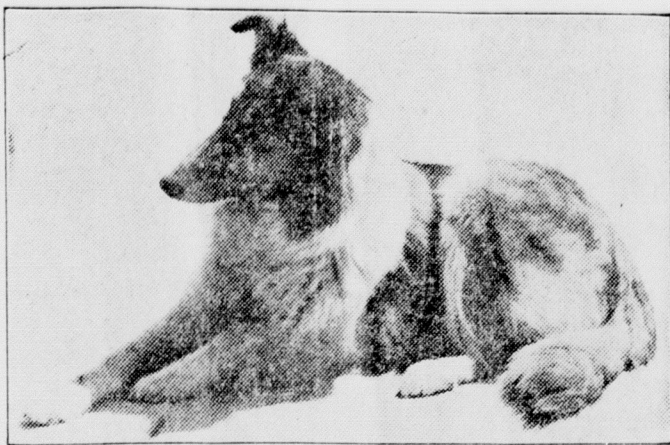

An application by Lucas Lucio, 2602 West Fifth street, for permission to operate a benefit circus on Townsend street between Second and Third streets on May 10 and 11 was granted subject to approval of Police Commissioner Plummer Burns and Police Chief Floyd W. Howard.

The suggestion by D. L. Magner, broker, that another fire station be inaugurated in the south part of the city was received and filed.

PAST PRESIDENTS TO MEET

Past presidents of Sarah A. Rounds Tent No. 10 will convene for a 1 o'clock luncheon Thursday at the home of Mrs. Floss LaBounty, 1324 Durant street. Mrs. Maude Sutton will be co-hostess.

SEES SANTA ANA FIRST TIME IN 54 YEARS

Pioneer Who Remembers Bad Men of "Way Back When" Visits W. H. Spurgeon

By VIRGINIA SMITH

Do you remember when the Spurgeon water works used to stand at Fourth and Sycamore where the W. H. Spurgeon building is now?

Do you remember when football was unheard of and the Santa Ana nine used to pile into a wagon to go over to Tustin for a baseball game?

Do you remember when Greenville used to be called the "gospel swamp?"

Do you remember the Humphrey boys and the Greenleaf girls and the pioneer Stafford family?

If you do, then you'll be interested to know that C. G. Elder, who lived in Santa Ana from 1874 to 1881, came to town yesterday and planned to take a tour of the city today under the guidance of W. H. Spurgeon, who was interested to know someone who remembered his father as the owner of the general merchandise store here. Mr. Elder lived in Santa Ana before Bill Spurgeon was born.

Remember Bad Man McManus?

Seeking boyhood friends, Mr. Elder returned to Santa Ana yesterday for the first time since 1881, except for a brief visit 40 years ago.

"I shouldn't have recognized the place," he said. "I think it's wonderful the way you've built it up."

Days when McManus, a "bad hombre," roamed through town with a posse at his horse's hoofs were recalled by the visitor.

"I guess there weren't more than 500 people in the whole place," Mr. Elder said. "We all went to school in a little brick building where the Y. M. C. A. now stands, under Mrs. Hewett and Professor Andrews. I believe their names were. We used to get all stuck up with cactus hunting on the Irvine ranch for cotton-tails and mocking birds. None of us had shoes those days," he chuckled.

"People used to be afraid of the stingers down at Laguna Beach when it opened," Mr. Elder continued.

Ah, Those Camp Meetings!

Spelling bees and hay rides provided amusement, but the annual "camp meeting down in the Santa Ana river bed were the real lark."

Walnut groves and grape vineyards were predominating agricultural pursuits, in those days. Development of orange growing was simultaneous with the expansion of irrigation facilities.

An employee of the Southern Pacific railroad since 1886, Mr. Elder has lived in San Jose for years. He married Miss Winnie Duryea of Kansas in 1889 and has two daughters also living in San Jose. Masonic orders have claimed him for the past 44 years. He is a Scottish Rite member.

"Though I've been away from Santa Ana for many years, I always remember it as the most beautiful place I've ever known and my boyhood experiences were the happiest time of my life. But now, I think San Jose is pretty nice, too," he added.

PETS WILL GO ON PARADE MAY 18

With collies in the front rank, dogdom's upper crust will go on parade Saturday, May 18, when the American Legion auxiliary sponsors its show for pedigree dogs in the Hill building. May 25 has been set for a display of canines of lesser heritage.

Traditionally understanding man, Scotch collies have a history of close contact with their masters. In Scotland mountains, collies are known to spend long hours with the shepherds tending flocks. A good sheep collie is claimed to be able to do the work of a dozen men, and it is felt no other breed could adequately replace him.

Called the "perfect pal," collies have been frequent subjects for short stories and novels, prominent among which are the Albert Payson Terhune series starting with "Lad, A Dog."

Judging will not be made since it is not an A. K. C. show. Entries are being urged from all persons having high-bred dogs. Mrs. Ralph Hoover, vice president of the auxiliary, 911 Oak street, phone 5731, and the Neal Sporting Goods store at 209 East Fourth street, phone 830—have been appointed to take the entries.

SHRINERS MEET FOR DINNER

Local Shriners today still were discussing with enthusiasm the dinner meeting and program that was held Saturday night in Veterans Hall, and which was attended by more than 250. Chanters from Al Malaikah temple, Los Angeles, entertained.

George Ramsey, recording secretary of the Los Angeles organization, presented his delegation of 22 visitors and spoke on activities and plans of the Shriners for the coming season.

To aid in opening the San Diego fair June 1, a caravan of 5000 Shriners is planning to go en masse to the city the previous night. Mr. Ramsey said, continuing with an explanation of arrangements for the event.

C. H. Robinson, president of the local first feature prize at the altar of ceremonies. Plans are under way, he declared, for a ladies' night in the fall.

Postmaster Stevenson Gains Unwanted Fame As Snake Collector

T. E. Stephenson, postmaster, is puzzled. For some reason, unknown to him, he has gained a reputation as a collector of snakes. So far as he is concerned, Mr. Stephenson said, the less he sees of reptiles in any shape or form, the better.

His undesired reputation as a fancier of the slithering vipers has reached San Antonio, Texas. Today Mr. Stephenson received a letter from the San Antonio Pet Shop. The letter follows:

"Dear Sir:

"I am in the market for some snakes (alive) from that territory. Will you kindly let me know what kind and at what price you can supply me with same, also Gila Monsters. If you can not furnish me with any of this material will you kindly hand this to some one that catches snakes. I will send out my shipping crates and pay carrying charges on anything you can supply.

"Yours Truly, Willis Woolens."

The letter was headed "Parrots, Snakes, Pet Animals, Importers, wholesale and retail dealers."

Puffy hastens to tell them he's NOT good at riding. "You're modest," says one. "We will do the deciding." Then out of the pasture they bring a big horse. Three men have to hold it—and need all their force.

Walnut Growers To Study Pests May 14

The annual pest control field day for walnut growers of Orange county will be Tuesday, May 14, 9:20 a. m. Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg announced today.

Growers will assemble at the C. W. Thornburg orchard on the Olive-Anaheim road, one-half mile west of Olive at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday. The program is sponsored by the agricultural extension service in cooperation with the Farm Bureau Walnut Growers' department.

ENTERTAINS GUESTS

BOLSA, Tuesday, May 7.—Mr. and Mrs. John Willingham had as dinner guests on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Clark and daughter of China, and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Merriwell of Ontario.

LOVE'S OLD SWEET SONG

Or, Is It Goodbye to Heart Balm?

Holding her first public office, a member of the legislature in Indiana, Mrs. Roberta West Nicholson, a housewife, started a legislative conflagration that may be spreading to the entire United States—the abolishment of "heart balm" suits. Mrs. Nicholson was caught by the camera in a pose which all members of the assembly know. Presiding over that group, she frequently has occasion to use the gavel and with each crack of the mallet, she blinked her eyes.

Is "heart balm," which has dragged many "big names" into the courts of the land, going to be legislated into limbo? Laws passed or proposed indicate the answer may be "yes." A bill covering the subject has been proposed in California. In a series of four daily articles, of which this is the first, the "broken heart" subject is discussed.

1. The Legislative Bonfire Starts

By SIGRID ARNE (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Women seeking money for broken hearts seem in a fair way to lose some of their favorite "protection" because a housewife, Mrs. Roberta West Nicholson, was elected to the Indiana legislature.

She piloted a bill to outlaw "heart balm" suits successfully through her state assembly this spring, and thereby started a law-making forest fire which has burned its way across 27 states since the first of the year.

Both Indiana and New York have passed laws which make it impossible anymore to collect money for such broken hearts as do their breaking over a lost fiance or a lost husband.

And meanwhile, in 25 other states similar bills are being put through the jumps, many of them with good prospects of becoming law, according to their sponsors.

Other States Consider Laws

The states in which bills similar to those of Indiana and New York have been considered include: California, Oregon, Rhode Island, Texas, Wisconsin, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Iowa, Nebraska, Kentucky, Vermont, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Oklahoma, Michigan, Tennessee, Minnesota, Maryland, South Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Ohio, Illinois and Missouri.

The history of the bills in these states is varied; some have not yet come up for discussion; in a few the bills have died in committee, but their sponsors promise to reintroduce them; and in others the bills have passed one house and gone on to the second.

One aspect of the movement has been the immediate and enthusiastic response of the public as reported by both Mrs. Nicholson and by State Senator John McNaboe of New York, who had long been planning his bill when Mrs. Nicholson's bill was announced.

Both of them have burned the midnight oil to read their mail and get it answered. There were so many demands for Mrs. Nicholson's bill she had to have 500 copies printed.

When the Indiana bill to outlaw "heart balm" suits was announced, State Senator John McNaboe had long been planning the bill which he introduced in the New York legislature. With only 13 negative votes out of 190 cast in both houses, the measure swept to a victory almost unprecedented for such a drastic legal change. McNaboe declares that the "heart balm" suits invariably are aimed at men of wealth or position—he sees the "heart balm" laws merely as instruments of a racket.

ANNUAL FIESTA OF STUDENTS ON FRIDAY

Featuring entertainment by Padua Hills Mexican players, and presenting as speakers Carl Wheat and Dr. Owen C. Coy, the eighth annual fiesta of the Santa Ana junior college will be held on the campus Friday. Lucian Wilson is manager and T. H. Glenn is faculty adviser.

Father Owen of St. Anthony's seminary at Santa Barbara mission will crown Vernon Mansur and Agnes De Busk Don and Dona for the occasion, starting the day's activities at 10:30 a. m. on the fiesta arena on the board of education grounds. The Padua players will lead the Don and Dona procession from College hall, and after the coronation ceremony will present an interlude of music and dancing.

Wheat to Speak

Wheat, an attorney, will give the morning address, speaking on "Fact and Fancy in Our California Background."

Dr. Coy, of the department of history of the University of Southern California, will discuss the subject "California Under Six Flags" as the address of the afternoon program, to which seniors of Orange County High schools are guests of the college.

The annual "bull fight," under the direction of Kenneth Vandruft, will be presented as part of the afternoon entertainment. Kenneth Nissley and LaVern Brower will act as the bull, and treader, will be Clarence Compton. Teasers will be Jack Rannels, Kenneth Stowell, Stephen Bruff, Leo Johnson, Nolan Hasson, and Jay Wood, Cleo Smith will sing.

Dance Concludes Event

The Fiesta will conclude with a dance in the American Legion hall, with Frank Nieman's orchestra from the Laguna Beach ballroom providing music. "Smilin' Through," this year's Fiesta play, free to visiting seniors, will be held Friday evening in the Willard auditorium, 1620 North Ross street, at 8:15 p. m.

Gauche committee members serving as hosts are Jay Wood, LaVern Brower, Ryverez Allen, Ray Foster, Kenneth Nissley, Paul Christ, Robert B. Kelly, Asa Hoffman, Albert Clark, Chris Ema, and Robert Ramm. Women members of the committee are Mildred Ware, Monias, Arden Murray, Moav, Mary Donni, Moav, Mary Lou McEllan, Spinster; Jeanne Paxton, Gitana; and Betty Woods, Gitana.

Ebell Clubwomen Anticipating Trophy Award at State Convention

Recognition Slated for Nursery

Project Begun in 1911 Under Mrs. Nealley Still Flourishing

Interest among Santa Ana Valley Ebell clubwomen in the approaching state convention of the California Federation of Women's clubs, May 15, 16 and 17 at Del Monte, has been heightened decidedly following announcement at last week's district board meeting in La Jolla that Miss Josephine G. Seaman's trophy for the best lasting service project of a southern district club will be awarded at the convention to Santa Ana Ebell for its day nursery project.

In line with the coming award, Mrs. C. V. Davis, retiring Ebell president, today released an account of the nursery's history and activities.

The report, prepared by Mrs. Maxwell Burke, follows: "The Ebell day nursery, leading project of the Ebell Society of Santa Ana Valley, was established in 1911 by a progressive and far-seeing group of clubwomen under the leadership of Mrs. Edward M. Nealley, who was then president of the club.

Women Recognize Need
"These women recognized a need in the community, the need of working mothers for safe care for their children during their hours of service, and the organization of the day nursery was the result.

"It was started in a modest way in a small cottage on Fifth street with Mrs. A. A. Jones as matron, and as soon as the working women of Santa Ana realized that they could be sure of the same care and comfort for their children that would be received at their own hands, their response was enthusiastic.

"The amount charged has always been very small, within the reach of the most modest income, and many children have been cared for without charge. During the 24 years that the nursery has been in operation the minimum charge has been ten cents per day, and the maximum fifty cents. It has always been the aim of the day nursery board to make the nursery self-supporting and at times, for short periods, it has paid expenses, but the charges made have been so low that it has never entirely maintained itself.

Small Shop Operated
"A small shop is operated in connection with the nursery where second hand clothing—some of it remodeled by the women of the board—is sold. This brings in some additional money.

"As the years passed the nursery outgrew its first home and the business district so nearly surrounded it that the location was no longer suitable. In 1924, with the assistance of the Rotary club, the present Garfield street location was purchased and remodeled to suit the needs of the nursery.

"The capacity of the present home is 50 children. The indoor playroom is 24 feet long, well lighted and furnace heated. The children are given an appetizing lunch at noon after a morning spent on the playground, if the weather is fine, or with indoor games on stormy days. In the afternoon there is a warm bath, a clean nightgown, a cozy bed and a drink of milk, and at evening the babies are sent home rested and happy.

Mrs. Flockton Matron
"Mrs. Ethel Flockton has acted as matron for the past 10 years and during the last two years has lived in the home, providing 24 hour service. During the depression years the attendance has decreased as was to be expected. In most homes today there is at least one adult out of work able to care for the children of the family.

"The annual report of 1933-34 shows 583 children cared for in the nursery, and in addition, that milk has been supplied daily to 30 undernourished children in their own homes. The report also shows that the income for the year equaled the expenditures.

During the current year repairs costing about $300 have been paid for out of the club treasury. The building was re-roofed and painted inside and out.

The Ebell club has received two bequests of $1,000 each, to be used for the day nursery, one by the late Mrs. Emma Bishop, the other by the late John Cubbon."

The day nursery committee for the year includes Mrs. Richard O. Winckler, who of late has been inactive on the committee, Mrs. C. D. Dodds, now in the east, Mrs. Herbert Rankin, Mrs. James Irvine, Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth, Mrs. W. D. Ranney, Mrs. Hugh Plumb and Mrs. George Newcomb.

Golden State Club Has Luncheon

The Royal Neighbor Golden State club met recently for a pleasant covered-dish luncheon session at the home of Treena Johnson, La Mirada.

Iva Stephenson and Margaret Harding gave readings and Rachel Dodrill sang solos. Sewing was done.

About 30 women attended. Special guests were State Supervising Deputy Christiana Hammill of Glendale, Deputy Lenora Fletcher of Long Beach, Elizabeth Fallert of Fullerton and Louise Van Note and Meta Nova, Los Angeles.

P. E. O. Honors Mothers At Luncheon

Chapter AB of the P. E. O. Sisterhood honored its members' mothers at a mother's day luncheon yesterday in the Doris Kathryn tea room.

Of the 11 mothers of members, five were present: Mrs. Mary E. Brownlee, Mrs. J. E. Norton, Mrs. C. F. Crose, Mrs. Josephine Peck and Mrs. M. Nisson.

Mrs. F. C. Rowland and Miss Mary Wakeham were hostesses. In the program hour, Mrs. Susan Rutherford told of her recent delightful trip to Mexico City through the canal to Jamaica and the West Indian Islands, St. Thomas and Blue Beard Castle, and other points of interest.

Holly Lash Visel, accompanied at the piano by Virginia Johnson, sang "Die Lorelei" and "Du bist wie eine Blume."

Mrs. T. E. Stephenson, new president of the chapter, was named official delegate to the P. E. O. state convention, May 16, 17 and 18 in Sacramento. Mrs. Earl S. Morrow and Mrs. Susan Rutherford are also to attend the convention.

Florine Pollock Complimented at Shower

Miss Florine Pollock, who is to be married June 2 to Glenn Feldner of Orange, was complimented at a surprise shower given by her sister, Mrs. Robert T. Davidson of Sierra Madre and a friend, Mrs. Charles Snyder of 308 Wright street, in the Snyder home recently.

Bowls of spring flowers in pastel tints appointed the home. While tallies were passed the hostesses presented a gardenia corsage from her fiancé to Miss Pollock.

Bridge prizes went to Mrs. Roy Tulene, who received a smart box of note paper, and Mrs. Merton McLaren, a sheer linen handkerchief.

Called into the dining room, the honoree found the table piled high with shower gifts tied in pastel tissues.

Miss Pollock's sets of burgundy crystalware and pottery service for her new home were completed at the shower. At tables gay in pink and white linens the hostesses served bride's cake iced in pink and white, and ices. Mrs. Snyder wore dark blue, Mrs. Davidson, blue print, and Miss Pollock, pink crepe.

Guests included Eulabelle Smith, Mrs. Alex Traskin, Mrs. Clyde Felner, Mrs. Clifford Brown, Mrs. W. S. Felner, Mrs. Kemper Anderson and Miss Catherine Hull, Orange.

Mrs. Mel Fowler, Miss Peggy Warburton, Mrs. Ferren Willis, Miss Marie Maag, Miss Mary Louise Dierker, Mrs. Edward Storey, Mrs. Arnold Finster, Miss Inogene McAuley, Miss Doris Bolles, Mrs. V. Robinson, Miss Emma Williams.

Miss Wilma Winther, Miss Mabel Wilson, Miss Catherine Walbridge, Mrs. Carl Lykke, Miss June Arnold, Miss Opal Brownlow, Miss Marion Johnson, Mrs. Stanley Goode, Miss Margaret Sawyer.

Mrs. John State, Mrs. Harold Pollock, and Miss Audrey McDonald, Santa Ana.

Miss Edna Forbes, Santa Barbara; Mrs. Richard Miller, Huntington Beach; Mrs. Curtis Youel, Inglewood; Mrs. Glenn Chaffee, Whittier; Mrs. C. J. Valente, Laguna Beach; Miss Jeannette Boardman, Newport Beach; Miss Bernice Spear, San Diego; Mrs. Hugh Van Hoy, Lolita, and Miss Virginia Pollock, Santa Paula.

Ebell Economics Section to Meet Tomorrow

Santa Ana Ebell second household economics section will meet tomorrow night, Mrs. Crawford said.

Fifty reservations for the dinner have been placed with Mrs. Crawford by organization officers, council executives, and school members, who are to be honored guests of the affair.

A violin ensemble composed of Georgia Belle Walton and Simon Plas, violin, and Cleland Harbaugh, piano, will play during the dinner.

The following mothers attended the afternoon business session: Mesdames Martha Elliot, Iona S. Sharp, Vanie Norris, Alice Suduth, Susie Lamb, Jennie Graves, Mary Croal, Myrtle Stull of Santa Ana; Mrs. Bessie Windham of Huntington Beach; Mrs. Edith Reynolds of Garden Grove; Mrs. Hattie Perkins and Mrs. Ruth Morris of Orange and Mrs. Emma Christensen of Tustin.

Engagement Announced At Party

Miss Bernice Callen's engagement to Alfred Friedrich of Oxnard was announced at a barbecue dinner at which her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rene Callens of Talbert, were hosts Sunday on their ranch home at Talbert.

Miss Callen's father announced the engagement at the close of the dinner, which was served at long tables appointed with pink and white flowers, nuptials and favors. The guests, mostly members of the two families, then crowded around the honoree to admire her pretty engagement diamond.

No date was announced for the wedding. The bride-to-be was born in Santa Ana, attended the Santa Ana schools and was graduated from Huntington Beach high school in 1932. Since then, she has been keeping books for her father.

Mr. Friedrich is a graduate of Oxnard high school and a rancher in Oxnard.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ignatius Friedrich, Alfred Friedrich, Ignatius, Vincent and Gertrude Friedrich, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Callens and son, Andrew, and daughter, Irene, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schreiner and daughter, Betty, of Oxnard.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gabaston, Ventura, Mr. and Mrs. Remi De Jonghe, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Callens, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Ballens, Agnes, Anita, Angela and Andrea Gallens, Girard Callens, Mr. and Mrs. G. Gilber, Ida Gilber and daughter, Ida, of Los Angeles.

Miss Mary Lagier and Rene Lagier, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Borchart and daughters, Bernice, Wilma and Anita, and son, Vincent, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Giesler and son, Harry, and daughter, Betty, and Mr. and Mrs. Cullen's son, Joe, and daughter, Irene, Santa Ana.

All P.-T. A. Officers To Be Installed Tomorrow

Fourteen Parent-Teacher association presidents and their staffs will take office along with council officers at the city-wide installation of officers to be held tonight at 7:30 in the Y. W. C. A. rooms.

Chief executives who will be installed include Mrs. Neal Beisel, junior college patrons' association; Mrs. E. H. Elsner, high school; Mrs. Hugh Hougham, Willard junior high; Mrs. Rufus Bond, Lathrop junior high; Mrs. R. A. McMahon, Edison; Mrs. R. E. Steinberger, Spurgeon; Mrs. Charles Briscoe, first vice-president, Roosevelt; Mrs. F. F. Fipps, Lowell; Mrs. Floyd Mitchell, McKinley; Mrs. James Hird, Franklin; Mrs. Fred Thompson, Wilson; Dr. Hester Olewiler, Jefferson; Mrs. E. M. Beasley, Lincoln and Mrs. H. M. Whisenand, John Muir.

Retiring presidents will introduce their successors at the dinner to be held in the Blue room of James cafe at 6 o'clock, preceding the installation. Those who have served during the past year include Mrs. Beisel, junior college; Mrs. M. W. Hollingsworth, high school; Mrs. Elsner, Willard; Mrs. Dale Griggs, Lathrop; Mrs. McMahon, Edison; Mrs. James Givens, Spurgeon; Mrs. Lynn Crawford, Roosevelt; Mrs. Lowell, Mrs. Mitchell, McKinley; Mrs. Earl Patterson, Franklin; Mrs. Russell Adkinson, Wilson; Mrs. Malcolm Macruden, Jefferson; Mrs. R. E. McMahon, Lincoln and Mrs. Max Holmes, John Muir.

Naming of all officers will be completed tonight, according to Mrs. W. E. R. Crawford, retiring president of P.-T. A. city council who will install organization and council executives. Council chairmen will be appointed later in the year.

During the installation services, Mrs. Irma Huffman May will sing. Several features are being kept secret until tomorrow night, Mrs. Crawford said.

Fifty reservations for the dinner have been placed with Mrs. Crawford by organization officers, council executives, and school members, who are to be honored guests of the affair.

A violin ensemble composed of Georgia Belle Walton and Simon Plas, violin, and Cleland Harbaugh, piano, will play during the dinner.

Gold Star Mothers Quilt Laprobes at Meeting

Laprobes were quilted for the disabled war veterans at Sawtelle in the monthly meeting of Gold Star Mothers yesterday in Veterans hall.

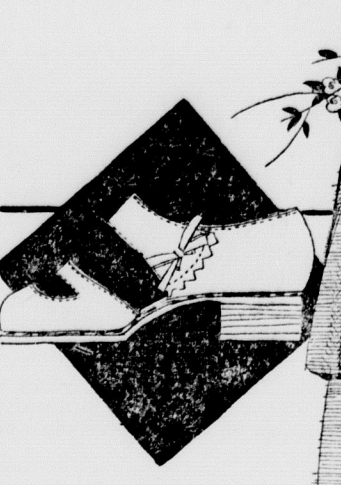

Two guests from Hermosa Beach attended the noon pot-luck luncheon.

The following mothers attended the afternoon business session: Mesdames Martha Elliot, Iona S. Sharp, Vanie Norris, Alice Suduth, Susie Lamb, Jennie Graves, Mary Croal, Myrtle Stull of Santa Ana; Mrs. Bessie Windham of Huntington Beach; Mrs. Edith Reynolds of Garden Grove; Mrs. Hattie Perkins and Mrs. Ruth Morris of Orange and Mrs. Emma Christensen of Tustin.

SUMMER TRAVEL DEMANDS SMART SUITS

English in theme—blonde fur trim... lower heels.

Liana Merwin

MANY of the latest suits for spring and summer travel wardrobes are definitely "English" in theme, with vented backs and swaggers, easy hanging lines that give a smart and desirable tailored effect. Fabrics, too, add to the "English" styling, with homespun much seen, both in plaid effects and solid pastels.

Summer furs trim many of these newer models, such as shown in the sketch above. This unlined suit of rose colored homespun uses natural polar wolf for making the attractive collar.

The 42-inch coat is worn open. Dolman sleeves with deep cuffs.

Friendship Theme of Banquet

Entering the "Gateway of Friendship," more than 125 mothers and daughters paraded into the educational building of First Christian church last night to attend the annual banquet of the Dorcas society.

Decorated as a garden, the banquet hall was festive with flowers. A gateway was arranged at the entrance.

At each cover on the table was a tiny gateway placecard with corsage and favor for the mother-guest.

How to preserve friendships between mothers and adult daughters was a feature of the talk given by Miss Mary Howard, executive secretary of the Y. W. C. A.

"Don't lose your daughter when she grows up," Miss Howard advised. "Treat her as an individual and not as a child." Her experiences with young women were recounted by the speaker.

What each letter of the word, friendship, means, was explained by Mrs. Dorothy Laughton in her toast, "The Gateway to Friendship." Mrs. Inez Ogil welcomed the mothers. Mrs. W. S. McManan gave the response. Musical numbers included a solo, "Life's Garden," by Mrs. Rose Woodward; a solo, "The Hand of You," by Mrs. Sadie Bell Green; two numbers, "Still as the Night" and "Mother, My Dear," by the trio composed of Mesdames Woodward, Green, and Hazel Bishop. Incidental music throughout the dinner was played by a string ensemble under direction of Leon Echio.

Toastmistress for the evening was Mrs. Mabel Morrison, who was introduced by Mrs. Elva Tibbals, president. Mrs. Will Gerlach, club mother, and Mrs. Buchanan and George Gould, club advisers, were among those present.

Dinner was served by women of the church.

Two Santa Ana Groups On Summer Trips

Two groups of Santa Anas are already well started on early summer jaunts through the east.

Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Golden of 526 East Chestnut and Mr. Golden's sister, Mrs. Elsie Finley of Nevada, Iowa, who has been in Santa Ana for the winter months, are motoring in leisurely manner through Texas, New Orleans, Florida, and Washington, D. C. They plan to be away for several months.

Mrs. C. H. Stanley, 1135 West First street, and her daughters, Mrs. Smallwood of Summerton, California, and Miss Edith Stanley of Santa Ana, are somewhere on the high seas by way of Panama bound for New York and Washington. From the capital city they will go to Europe and tour the continent for some months before returning to their home city.

'G' Men to End Local Run Tomorrow

Manager Lester J. Fountain of the Broadway theater today related an amusing incident which happened during the production of the great drama of United States Secret Service operators, "G Men," which will show at the Broadway theater tomorrow night for the last time.

It seems that Director William Keighley on the Warner lot in Burbank finished "G Men" and sat down in his chair in relief. There had been considerable excitement and fighting and shooting and roughhouse. He looked around the set, representing a kitchen of a Wisconsin summer resort. It was a shambles.

Keighley was tired, and at the moment he needed quiet. Barton MacLane and Russell Hopton, playing the roles of gangsters, had been crouching under the cottage kitchen sink while George Daly and Fred Davis, Warners' machine-gun experts, sent a hail of lead over their heads. Jimmy Cagney, Bob Armstrong and the rest of the "G-Men" had just staged a realistic fighting attack in capturing the resort.

There was a free-for-all fight between Cagney and Edward Pawley, another "gangster." They had battered each other around, tossed each other across tables, and literally incapacitated themselves while the cameras whirled.

On another stage, Armstrong and MacLane banged away at each other, shooting through a closed doorway, and using real bullets because blanks won't tear holes in wood.

Cagney came out of the fight with a sprained finger, sustained in a jiu jitsu bout; Russell Hopton's right leg was injured when he backed into a "getaway" car while a bank hold-up was being filmed; Lloyd Nolan was knocked unconscious when Edward Pawley brought his manacled wrists down upon his head; Frank Evans, an assistant cameraman, was wounded by a bullet in the leg.

Keighley was tired, very tired, when he turned to a newspaper and read a headline: "United States Attorney General Cummings says the current crop of pictures dealing with the deeds of the Department of Justice are too sissified."

Former Classmates Meet to Honor Bride-Elect

Former classmates in the Richmond Avenue Methodist church Sunday school class of Mrs. E. G. Warner met at the Warner home on Willett street last Saturday afternoon for a shower party at which their former teacher complimented Miss Mildred Veale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Veale of West Highland avenue, and fiancée of George Clewett of Escondido, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Clewett of Upland.

Mrs. Warner's houseguest, Mrs. Ella Clark of Rugged City, S. D., assisted with the hostess preparations. The guests played anagrams. Mesdames Mildred Goodwin and Dorothy Skinner won prizes.

In the dessert hour, Mrs. Warner served ices and cakes. Afterward, she presented the honoree with a bride's cake concealed within the frilly skirt of a miniature bride. This cake was cut and shared by Miss Veale with her friends. Each guest wrote a good wish for her.

Sweet peas and forget-me-nots appointed the dessert tables, which were laid with pastel linens and centered by lighted pastel candles.

Invited guests were Miss Darline Breaky, Miss Marcelle Shanafelt, Miss Marie Woods, Miss Ethel Knox, Miss Mary Ann Lucas, Miss Barbara Stevens, Miss Norma Bogart, Miss Mildred McCullah, Miss Eleanor McCullah, Miss Pauline Chapman, Mrs. William Clewett and Miss May and Miss Alice Clewett, Miss Nora Veale, and Mrs. Maule Veale.

F. D. R. OMITS PROCLAMATION

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, May 7. (AP)—President Roosevelt today reminded the country that next Sunday is Mother's day and said it was unnecessary to issue a proclamation to call attention to such a day.

Mr. Roosevelt put aside a senate resolution calling for a mother's day proclamation. He said:

"On the ninth day of May, 1914, President Wilson, in response to a joint resolution of the congress, issued a proclamation directing government officials to display the United States flag on all government buildings and inviting the people of the United States to display the flag at their homes or other suitable places on each second Sunday in May as a public expression of our love and reverence for the mothers of our country.

"In the intervening years the observance of Mother's day has assumed a deep and growing significance. It is not my purpose this year to issue a special proclamation on the subject as I believe that the attention of the American people will be so devoted to the cause of that day that repeated formal action on the part of the chief executive is unnecessary.

"I prefer to think that the tributes which will be paid to mothers will come simply and spontaneously from our hearts."

Formal Opening For Beauty Salon Set

As modern as a shop as the latest style furniture in red leather and chromium can make it, Vieira's new beauty salon at 715 N. Main street will have a formal opening tomorrow from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Established in Santa Ana for seven years, the beauty shop was formerly at 1103 North North street. No service will be given during the opening tomorrow.

"All the latest equipment has been installed," Warren F. Vieira said today. Operators who will work with him include Emma L. Vieira and Ann Kolbe.

WEBER BAKERY WINS SILVER CUP

J. W. Costello (seated) and Dale Weber, president and vice-president, respectively, of the Weber Baking company, are shown as they received the silver cup won by their bakery for the highest national bread score. This first prize was awarded by the Bakers' Consulting Bureau of America to Weber's Honey-Krusted bread for its outstanding quality.

LET THERE BE MORE LIGHT

OUT of the misty past, when this section was a wilderness of wild oats and mustard, there has arisen through the untiring and self-sacrificing efforts of pioneers, later supplemented by the enthusiasm and visuality of succeeding generations, a city, beautiful in its topographical location, architectural appeal, and horticultural loveliness. It's so good to look upon that nothing should be left undone to throw upon the screen of public opinion the most favorable picture of your Santa Ana and my Santa Ana.

What provoked this outburst is the undeniable but regrettable fact that on account of the depression-enforcing economic management, there has been a declining luminosity in this city. We are losing our illuminating attractiveness.

Responding to city-wide petition, lighting privileges were requested from the city council, with the result that in residential and business sections grants were bestowed that placed Santa Ana into an effulgence which created favorable comment from those who were not immediate beneficiaries.

Then came the dark days and in order to lighten the load on taxpayers reductions were made in our illumination. We dropped from 600 candle power in the business district to 250. Similar reductions were made in the residential sections and when Mr. Citizen started to sing, "Show Me the Way to go Home," he had a 150 candle light to lead him.

Both the city and the citizen met the situation with equanimity, feeling the reductions were justified under the stress of economic conditions.

But a new issue is now projected into the situation by the San Diego Exposition which is soon to open, and there is a growing conviction, if city finances will permit, that the council should restore our illuminating appeal, and favorably impress the thousands of visitors who will pass through this beautiful city and fertile county en route to the exposition city.

Before closing this editorial it might be well to state that The Journal has no public utility stock, so there can be no valid accusation of selfish interest. Yet there is a selfish concern. It is in the community in which you and the writer reside, a community to which we should contribute of our means and ability to make it more attractive.

THE UNFORGETTABLE NINETIES

O. MCINTYRE'S column, which flanks our own pillar of wisdom, is labelled as an exposition of New York life and goings-on. Of course, it is that, but also it is a reflection of the small-town and open country.

In fact, our own favorite spots in his daily grist are the "memories" which he lists every now and then of his boyhood in the rural regions. For instance, in last Thursday's column, these recollections:

Warming the flannel night gowns before the open grate at bed time . . . A package of Sen-Sen for the Saturday night date . . . Bronzed milkweed pods in the parlor . . . The slazy who took a towel to the old swimmin' hole . . . The ice tub in the cellar covered with carpet . . . The taste after dried leaf cigarettes . . . shining shoes with banana peels . . . Sunday walks to the reservoir . . . Sitting on the cellar steps and looking sad a few days before the circus came to town.

This brings something very real and very graphic into the minds of us middle-aged-and-older ones, especially those who originated in the middle west. And it calls up similar memories of our own.

In the case of this writer, for example, the bronzed cat-tails which filled a parlor corner . . . the "casser" for vinegar, salt, pepper, etc., on the diningroom table . . . picking up buffalo horns on the prairie . . . covered wagons trundling westward . . . frozen geese and prairie chicken hanging through the winter on the north outside wall of the house . . . church sociables . . . high-wheeled bicycles . . . peek-hole movies . . . ear-tube gramophones . . . slippery elm whistles.

What are your boyhood memories, fellow oldsters of Orange county? Why not write them in to The Journal for a little symposium on life as we lived it so short a time and yet so infinitely long ago?

HEALTH AND PLEASURE

FROM the recreational viewpoint the Orange county coast line testifies with increasing power as season follows season. Under favorable climatic conditions, and the percentage is in our favor, this area is becoming more and more popular. Week-ends during the summer season find few coast spots unoccupied from the upper Orange county line to the San Diego border. It is the resting and zesting place for not only our own people but inland residents.

Its importance calls for jealous protection. The value of recreational advantages such as Orange county possesses cannot be measured either in physical value or monetary consideration. That is why we surmise the Orange County Coast association is alert to prevent individual encroachments and to preserve to posterity the privileges and benefits that will accrue to this section.

With the completion of the Newport Harbor dredging project, coast population is certain to increase. In fact in advance of its completion building activity is attested by increasing permits.

There is an enticement to be near the coast. Beach homes are a delight, and the rolling hills overlooking the ocean are charming residential locations. But the coast line should be held for public pleasure and an exhilaration for adult and child so they can get an opportunity for physical expression, and the health that comes floating in from the sea.

Premier Mussolini, recently interviewed by Titayana, French newspaper woman, is quoted by her as saying: "I am a feminist. Only, women must not meddle with politics, philosophy or architecture." All right, Il Duce, all right; only you tell 'em so—don't expect us to.

Can this "Send-a-Dime" chain letter racket be just some new share-the-wealth idea?

Every now and then death deals the United States a real calamity by striking down some leader in the government who, obviously to all, is rising steadily into a position of ever greater national importance. It was so when Senator Dooliver, of Iowa, author of the railroad commission act, died just when the presidency was beckoning. It was so when death claimed Senator Walsh, of Montana, as he was to step a few days later into the attorney generalship under Franklin Roosevelt. It was so yesterday when Senator Bronson Cutting, rapidly rising progressive, fell to his death in an airplane crash.

O. O. McIntyre

Brock Pemberton has come under the wire with another hit—the second of the season. He has been the most successful of the time-bidders, often going through several sabbatical years, seemingly doing nothing but sitting around a rather dingy office with his feet on a desk. Yet this is unconscious camouflage. Where so many others rush in pell-mell, he waits for an idea to bloom. One of the theater's shrewdest and most studious observers, his castings have shown uncanny judgment. The majority of his successes are about by his selection of Few had heard of Gladys George until he salvaged her from stock to be the bright particular star of "Personal Appearance." Time after time he has figuratively picked them out of the air. Unsmiling, ungrateful-eyed, he is in some ways the Rialto's current Gloomy Gus.

Member of a distinguished Kansas family, he began as a newspaperman in Emporia, migrating in easy journalistic stages to New York. His first theatrical venture, "Enter Madame," established him, and his failures have been few: He is the calmest person in the audience at his own first nights.

When Sam Eyrd grows too jittery from his 600 sombre and slattern nights of turnip eating in "Tobacco Road," he gets hold of himself by hopping a train for several hours of window looking. He buys a round trip to some point in Jersey or Long Island, acquires a window view and returns refreshed and ready for more turnips. He has to devour two, full-sized, at each performance. Dyspeptics see him and flutter into the orks-orks.

And many cannot enjoy the skill of Cardini, the Inverness caped illusionist, because of a foreboding he is shortening his career by incessantly smoking the lighted cigarettes he plucks from the air. At four performances a day he fairly eats them up in deep inhalations, averaging from 20 to 30 at each show. There are times, too, when he plays two additional night clubs. Then there's doubtless his home-work smoking.

Bobby Clark gives Frisco a close race for the cigar consuming championship. He burns up a half dozen each performance, aside from being a steady smoker of stage. But Frisco lights a cigar upon awakening and is never without one, even puffing furiously through his meals, until he turns off the light at night.

Manhattan's most famous scenic view has become that vista of the Washington bridge from the Riverside sweep known as Inspiration Point. It's especially breath-taking just before the sun, hanging like a sullen red ball, dips behind the golden crumple of the Jersey horizon. The dark damson blue of The Palisades shifts with pigeon throat colorings and the Hudson gallantly catches the sparkling salute of a dying day. Over it all the one-span bridge arches gauzy tracery in silhouette—like a painter's final stroke that so often proclaims the masterpiece. Every sundown much of the available space is taken on by pausing motorists who take on 50 painters are at their easels trying to imprison the majesty of it all on canvas. One thinks of Skippy's immortal burst at a similar arcadia when he exclaimed, "Jiminy, it's so beautiful I could bust someone in the eye!"

Jacobs, the wayside photographer for more than 30 years along upper Riverside Drive, is again at his old post. All day long in fair weather he stands under a spreading tree. Only his camera on a tripod indicates his calling. He never solicits, yet he has made a good living and purchased a new home. Pulpiters casting about for a sermon topic might find one on faith from this humble citizen by the side of the road.

I visited a Chinese laundry far west on Thirty-fourth street the other day. The age-old Chinese diffidence to change prevailed. Shirts are still sprinkled with sudden labial pucks, and the yellow claim checks hung on a wall nail. That forgettable aroma, the odor of old fungi in an abandoned tomb, was the same, too. Our old Sam Lee with a pigtail, however, had become young Fong with a feather-edge hair cut. I prefaced a few inquiries I want to make with: "I'm a newspaper-

What Other Editors Think

TRoubles OF BEET GROWERS
(Orange Daily News)

The complaint of Orange county beet farmers that no Mexican labor is available because the workers are comfortable entrenched in the relief rolls is not a new objection to the administration of federal relief. It merely brings the situation nearer home.

It seems intolerable that public funds should be used for the support of people who will not work when given the opportunity, yet the fault is not entirely on the side of the worker. There is a general impression among those on relief that the acceptance of outside employment will result in being dropped from relief with little prospect of getting back when the outside employment is over.

Under such conditions, the individual cannot be seriously criticized if he hesitates to separate himself from a sure living for the chances involved in seasonal or temporary employment. The situation then, bad as it is, cannot be fairly laid at the door of the worker. It calls vigorously for a reorganization of administrative methods and perhaps a reversal of the entire theory of relief.

We have tried made work and found it an unsatisfactory method of handling a job which must be done. We have partially adopted the dole system, without admitting it. It is no wonder that confusion of administration exists.

In the early stages of the relief problem, it was reasonable to expect difficulties and mistakes. Continued failure to meet conditions such as those encountered by the beet farmers would indicate a want of clear thinking at the top rather than misbehavior at the bottom.

MR. LOUDON'S IDEAS
(Anaheim Bulletin)

Santa Ana today has a new daily newspaper, the first edition having appeared last Wednesday.

The paper comes in the Orange county field backed by men of considerable experience and faced with opportunity for much good.

Our county seat long has sounded the haven voice attuned to the ear of the distant publisher. Its history is cluttered with the skeletons of ill-advised efforts to make another blade of grass grow where one already was growing.

It may be that Santa Ana now is ready for two daily newspapers, and that this new venture will prove a genuine benefit to its community. There is no doubt but that there have been times when the cause of county unity could have been promoted by a county seat paper with a single-focusing eye looking to that goal.

If the new paper remains as an Orange county institution it will be because it is able to contribute a service. Merchants will be willing to give their support if they find their community welfare is being advanced.

Feeling Well Today?

Dr. Claud North Chrisman

Yesterday we talked about the habit-forming plant marihuana, and stated that a tobacco time of the dried blossoms would make 30 or 40 cigarettes. One of these cigarettes is enough to intoxicate the smoker.

The first effects are exaltation or well-being. The natural traits of the user are magnified; sight and hearing sharpened with an increase of mental and physical activity. The mind races and ideas follow each other in rapid succession, with a great feeling of prolongation of time. Moments seem as hours and days.

The after effects are headache and dullness, dizziness, and confusion in the skin and a ravenous appetite. Prolonged use of the drug leads to a complete loss of judgment and self-restraint and, peculiarly, it promotes the desire to kill.

The victims develop a crazy courage and run amuck. For the last few years we have been reading of cases of wholesale murder, when a man previously quiet enough, suddenly turned on his family or friends and killed a number of persons in the most brutal way. Often he kills himself after he has disposed of all those with whom he came in contact.

In Eureka, California, a man unnamed. He beamed pleasantly. "I have taken a course in journalism myself." So, as Harry Silvey would say, we talked and talked and one thing led to another. But somehow I felt gosh-awful silly. (Copyright, 1935, McNaught Syndicate)

Twenty-Five Years Ago

MAY 7, 1910

Spurgeon's hall was filled to overflowing this afternoon with people who came to see the baby show, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society of the Congregational church. There were over 100 babies on exhibition, and there were certainly some beauties among them. In fact they were all beauties.

Edwin McFadden entertained a few of his young gentlemen friends with a delightful 7 o'clock dinner last evening at his home on North Main street. After dinner, music, games and conversation were enjoyed until a late hour. Those present were: Prof. H. O. Eggen, Ernest Von Ahnen, John Henderson, Martin Warren, Ben Reiland, Arthur Morse, Will Binkley, Harry Wane and William Smart.

The Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church held an enjoyable social last night at the home of the president, Herbert Rankin, on Spurgeon street.

Miss Lizzie Lowry of Pittsburgh was visiting J. E. Long and wife of 104 West First street during the past week. Yesterday she returned to her home.

The First Baptist Sunday school enjoyed its annual picnic today at Orange county park.

Miss Allie Hallett Taylor went to Los Angeles for the weekend. London—George V. was proclaimed king this afternoon. Edward VII, king of the English, died at 11:45 o'clock last night.

Stockholm—The Roosevelts arrived here today and were received at the railway station by Prince Wilhelm and driven to the palace, where they will be guests of the prince in the absence of King Gustav, who is in France.

Washington—In the rapid development of the world's manufacturing industries, the United States is leading her three principal competitors—Great Britain, France and Germany. This is evidenced, according to the calculations of the bureau of statistics, by the immense increase in importations of raw materials, and the growth of exports of finished products.

Denver—Work has been resumed in five mines in the northern Colorado coal fields, and coal is being shipped in small quantities.

YOUTH IS THINKING
(Rotary Wheelbarrow)

Speeches made by young folks in high school and college speaking contests during recent months have shown an unmistakable turn of thought to two lines: First, to the possibilities of war and peace; and second, to the necessity for economic security and stability. Fully 30 per cent of such "orations" when left to the choice of the young speaker, have dealt with some phase of one or the other of these vital themes. If youth really thinks constructively on these lines, there ought to be results when youth becomes adult and in position to act.

Lemon Juice

Howdy, folks! In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of a huddle in a rumble seat.

Joe Bungstarter never attends baseball games as he says it is too fatiguing to get up in the seventh inning and stretch.

LOCAL CAPITALISTS

Today we take pleasure in introducing Marvin W. Hoeck, brilliant young business promoter, who amassed a small fortune salvaging oil from sardine tins, and selling it to Santa Ana junior college boys who use it to lubricate the motors of their 1927 flivvers.

A Hollywood film producer declares that the children he employs often suggest ideas to him. This explains a good deal.

"Live one day at a time," advises a preacher. That's about all most of us can afford to do.

SPRING POEM

Every morning
Finds me yawning.

Two fellows were standing on the corner of Fourth and Main streets. One was wearing knickers, and the other didn't know anything about golf either.

ABIGAIL APPLESAUCE SEZ:
"One way to prevent auto accidents would be to plant rubber trees along the country highways."

The human mind is said to emit radio waves. But like most of the other stations, the largest part of the program is jazz.

Ambitious Youth—Please give me a job, sir; I'm perfectly willing to start at the bottom.
Boss—All right, my boy—if you can find it, you can start there.

YE DIARY

Lay long abed, pondering this and that, in especial why politicians do build beautiful highways in the sparsely settled country and never repair roads used daily in town. Also do think pleasant thoughts of the future, especially the approach of the root crop season. Dame Juice having promised to again take up the making of parsnip wine, heaven be praised . . . To driving in the afternoon to Laguna, as pretty a town as ever I saw . . . Thus evening Dame Juice doth say, "Neighbor McNeel must be burning some rubbish in his back yard." But Lord! I do say naught, for the odor both come from an old Pittsburgh stogie, which I did find in the attic . . . Anon to bed.

FINANCIAL NOTE

The Seventy-Fourth Congress
$8 Still in $8500

P. T. Barnum once advertised a freak as the "smallest giant in the world." But that's nothing. Yesterday a Los Angeles sports writer referred to a baseball player as a "veteran rookie."

Grace! How did you get along with your French in Paris?

Viola: Wonderful! I found two women from Fullerton who could understand me!

Boy, blow out the light.

The Merry Go-Round

president's office. . . . T. W. St. Louis—There is no likelihood this session that the senate's rules will be changed to put any curbs on Senator Huey Long or any other member. Some administration would like to gag Huey but they couldn't muster the two-thirds vote necessary to modify the rules. . . . R. S. Greenville, Tex.—Representative Martin Dies rates as one of the mediocrities of the house. A blatant, rudeness, unmannered old guard, he is generally unpopular not only with the members at large but among his fellow Texans. . . . A. B. St. Petersburg, Fla.—Salaries of senators are no greater than salaries of representatives—$10,000 less 5 per cent out. Representatives are allowed $5,000 for clerks, which must be divided between at least two persons. Senators are allowed four regular clerks at stated salaries, with a fifth added to the staff during the session. There is no check on the number of pieces of franked mail each member sends out.

Editor The Journal:
I see that Col. V. Orange is writing for The Journal. Is that the Orange that belongs to the Citrus family?

I note that John Citrus is also on the Journal staff.

Is Col. Orange one of the Valencia Oranges? What does the "V" stand for? Sincerely, CECELIA ANN LEMON.

SKINNY SKRIBBLES

Around and About Town

With C. F. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

Major Anderson, refrigerator specialist, who represents a concern so generally known that designation is obvious, has become a walking delegate. Some scallawag, belonging to the Los Angeles area, stole the major's car. This theft involves a wide area as the major's jurisdiction includes all of Southern California, Arizona and Texas. Inasmuch as there are 265,896 square miles in Texas for the major to cover I am not expecting him home for some time.

One of my friends called to confide in me that he could detect a growing inclination on his part to yield to physical infirmities. The only thing that kept him from going under was the high cost of sickness. He said his revenue refused to support any such luxury.

An Orange county delegate attending the California Conference of Social Workers makes a few observations in the hotel lobby, as per se. In addition to the meeting he expects to attend there is a jockeys convention, the brewers are foaming about the hotel, distillers making a hard effort to attract attention, a ministerial convention, and various groups of business men gathering. The business men are meeting to save themselves, the ministers to save them, and presumably the jockeys for the purpose of taking them all for a ride. Ironically as it may seem the social workers are at the St. Francis holding a meeting to save everybody. The business men used to meet at the big hotels and social workers at the poor ones. Now there are more social workers than business men, but they still figure on the business man paying the ad valorem tax and every other conceivable tax to keep the machinery going, so that the man who does not want to work can get something from the business man who is trying to keep the darn wheels turning.

Los Angeles sports writers projected a complication into the family domicile of Lucian Wilson. The Times called him "Jim," and the Examiner, wanting to be different from its competitor, called him "Al." Next morning when Papa Wilson pushed his physiognomy into Lucian's bedroom to see what had become of the popular hurrler, there he was—one in all and all in one.

Press dispatches recently carried a story about a man who lived to be 101 years old who never smoked a cigarette, drank a glass of beer or worn a necktie. I can understand how he could get along with the tie, and to stipulate it was a ripe old age.

One of the best stories that I have heard lately is about a "Prosperity Parade" promoted by a high pressure salesman in an Oklahoma town. He wanted everybody who had made any money the past year to participate in a parade, to be led by the brass band. When the hour arrived for the procession no one showed up, and the promoter drove down the main street explaining that the dust storm had prevented the boot-legger from reaching town, and the undertaker did not want to ride alone.

A communication from the Hon. Roland Casad, after passing from the editor to the city editor to the society reporter to the reporting reporters, superlatively found its way on my desk, and I suspect the contributing culprits were in a huddle some place and if I could take it. Mr. Casad's card reads Covina, and his platform formulated for the purpose of running for President and redeeming the human race reads from Maine to California and the Canadian border, to Jules Markel's New Orleans—omitting the "n" in New Orleans. Five, six, seven, eight and nine deal with debt, old age pension, playground facilities, conservation of national resources, and control of the hours of labor. At this point the game was called on account of rain. Now do not conclude that Casad is all wet. He is dealing with vital issues; and the announcement of his candidacy for the presidency of the United States is no small ambition. I am undecided whether there should be a head on this item reading: "On the way to Washington," or just "Looking that way."
